

JEWISH HOLIDAY SERVICES WILL BE HELD HERE

New Year Will Be Observed By Local Hebrew Families

The congregation B'Nai Brith, of this city, is preparing to celebrate the Jewish New Year, which opens at sundown tonight and continues until sunset tomorrow evening. Holiday service will be held at 6:30 tonight at Redman's hall, Fourth and Birch streets, with Rabbi Silverman officiating. Services will be held at 8 tomorrow morning and again at 6 tomorrow evening.

Some of the members of the congregation will close their places of business tomorrow, while others will keep open.

The congregation has recently been organized by the Jewish families of the city and plans are being made for extending the membership to include every family in the county, with a synagogue to be erected later.

Services are to be held every Friday afternoon, with a school session each Friday afternoon for the children, the purpose being to acquaint them with the Jewish language, writing and reading and the Jewish faith.

Yom Kippur will be observed with services Friday evening, October 3, and Kol Nidre services the following morning at 8:30 o'clock.

SIX VETERANS AGED 491 YEARS AT DINNER

SHREVEPORT, La., Sept. 24.—Six veterans of the civil war, whose ages total 491 years, ate dinner, recently, at the home of John Antle of this city, one of their number. Antle, who is 83 years old, has been an invalid for six months, and the visit of the old friends was greatly enjoyed. The guests and their ages are as follows: Cameron J. Limpus, 74; Elisha Weakley, 83; George Kent, 83; Sylvan B. Morris, 89, and William H. Norris, 75.

WANTED

Women of Good Address With House- to house selling experience, to travel, demonstrate and sell consumers through dealers; those who object to soliciting from door to door and making deliveries when necessary need not apply; those with autos preferred.

Those who work six hours daily, and produce results, to build up an independent for life.

Our goods are conspicuously superior, priced right, give perfect satisfaction, and under our special plan of introduction have been sold with startling rapidity by the women who have placed them, and they "repeat" continually.

We want to hear from those who have the desire, ambition, energy, capability, intention and determination to be successful in whatever they undertake; from those who have a record of success; from those who realize the importance, value and necessity of selling goods with a reputation—goods that will make an enviable reputation for those who sell them; from those who will appreciate a paying position with an out-of-the-ordinary organization, with special selling plans insuring success.

When writing please give full particulars covering past experience.

Make all applications by mail and not in person. If you include references it will save time.

Income is based upon results, from $100 to $400 a month; your ability and efforts determine the amount of your income.

GARY STRIKERS TAKE WALKOUT SERIOUSLY

Forty Rollers Will Return to Work and Hope to Take Helpers

By J. L. O'SULLIVAN

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

GARY, Ind., Sept. 24.—Strikers in the Calumet steel district for the first time since they walked out seemed to realize today the seriousness of the business at hand. Gary streets no longer gave the appearance of a festival day, as during the first two days of the strike.

Although streets were crowded almost constantly, there was little of the hilarity that was noticeable previously. The men were not spending in the free fashion which has long been a characteristic of the city's population. They were saving it for the long pull which they believe is ahead.

The average Gary steel worker is "well heeled," according to financial institutions. Bank officials, the majority of whom are openly "with" the steel companies, declare that $300 is the average bank account of the steel worker. They say that without outside aid the average striker should be able to live comfortably until December 1 without working.

Keeping Up Morale

Union headquarters today sent workers to homes of the strikers to keep up the morale of the families and to urge saving of funds in every possible way so that they would be ready to meet a long strike if necessary.

With the exception of the announcement by forty rollers employed at the American Sheet and Tinplate factory that they would return to work today with their crews, totalling 800 men, the strike situation was apparently at a standstill. Whether or not the rollers had been able to take back their assistants was still in doubt early today.

Steel company officials were jubilant over the rollers' action. They declared it was the first break in the ranks of strikers. The rollers are the highest-paid skilled workers in the industry. Those in the tinplate plant have been making from $30 to $60 a day.

These men claimed they remained away from work the first two days of the strike because of fears for their bodily safety. They said they had been threatened by pickets. When city officials promised to safeguard them while going to and from the plant, a statement by their leaders said, they agreed to go back.

Many Aided to Work
Company officials declared that a large number of strikers at other mills are out merely because they are afraid to go to work. Union leaders scoff at this. They declared rollers, who have salaries of from $10,000 a year up, are classed with officials and they did not expect them to join the strike.

"Rollers, even if they go back themselves, will not be able to take their crews back with them," said James Mulholland, secretary of the Gary union.

Local police are co-operating with federal officials to prevent spreading of radical propaganda.

Mike Yelovich was held under $10,000 bond today, charged with distributing bolshevik literature and advocating overthrow of the government. He was held under a state law passed by the last session of the Indiana legislature.

City and County Briefs

Rene Creamer of Huntington Beach had the misfortune, Sunday morning, of having his arm broken while cranking the Chalmers racer driven by the Creamer boys. He had driven out to the Holly sugar factory after his brother, who works there, and was cranking the car for the return trip.

Walnut growers are glad to see the wet fog such as prevailed this morning. It is said to cure the nuts so that they drop more freely from the husk. There has not been as much fog as usual this fall, especially of the wet variety.

J. A. Cranston has been elected deacon of the First Congregational church to fill the unexpired term of David Hershman and Thos. H. Rowland was elected to fill out the term of W. W. Sims.

More than fifty Sunday School teachers attended the group meetings at the Presbyterian church Monday evening. The interest manifested determined the decision to hold other group meetings in November with separate groups for teachers of young people, juniors and primary pupils. It is a noticeable fact that the better trained teachers are eager to learn something more, some better methods, if possible, of teaching the truth to their pupils, and so becoming more efficient in the service of their Lord.

AMERICAN FOOD COST IS PALED BY RUSSIA

OROVILLE, Cal., Sept. 24.—The first direct information as to normal conditions existing in torn Russia arrived in this city recently in a letter written to Harry McCoy by W. P. Armstrong, well known railroad man, who is now in that country.

According to Armstrong, the present high cost of living in America is merely in primary stages compared with Russia. People no longer think of riches, while the necessities of life have reached such a figure that they are prohibitive for the average person's pocketbook.

Eggs are sold at 60 cents each, while an apple is valued at $1. According to the local man, there is plenty of money in circulation in Russia, but there is no food for which to exchange it.

committee met. Mills in the Monongahela Valley, where the fight is centered, continued to operate. The estimates of the steel companies and Secretary Foster of the steel committee were still far apart. Foster has ceased to claim, however, that all mills were "down." Considering the close police protection in the valley towns, which prevented the operation of organizers, Foster said he thought satisfactory progress had been made.

Early reports from the various valley towns today were that as many men were going to work as yesterday without disorder. Duquesne is operating 100 per cent and Clairton, Braddock and Rankin reported an increasing number of men returning.

Foster is now working on a plan of getting railroad workers to refuse to haul trains in and out of the steel mills.

Foster charges that men are being arrested for merely being on the streets, fined $50 and then told that their fines will be remitted if they will go back to work.

Wilson May State Stand In Great Steel Walkout

ABOARD PRESIDENT WILSON'S TRAIN, RAWLINS, Wyo., Sept. 24.—

President Wilson's attitude in regard to the steel strike probably will be made known in a speech very soon. He already has established a precedent for such an utterance by condemning the Boston police strike in several of his addresses. When he takes up the steel strike the president is expected to declare that when any faction refuses to submit its cause to arbitration, that cause is defective.

The president's train was still traveling through sparsely settled country today and there were but few people out to see it pass. The president speaks in Cheyenne this afternoon and will arrive in Denver quietly during the night and go directly to his hotel.

Scores of Deputy Sheriffs Placed In Shenango Valley

SHARON, Pa., Sept. 24.—With the swearing in of scores of deputy sheriffs and the placing of the strike zone practically under martial law, the state constabulary and local police authorities were today prepared for any emergency that may arise in connection with the steel strike in the Shenango valley.

The record of disorders at Farrell now stands at three killed and ten wounded by gunshot and scores by clubbing.

The second fatal rioting started last night when a member of a mob fired on state troopers, who returned six volleys, killing John Bandak, 32, who was shot through the head, and wounding six others.

State Constabulary Sent Into Lackawanna District

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Governor

Smith has ordered a company of state constabulary to Lackawanna, where disorders have occurred in connection with the steel strike.

The detail left here at midnight and was joined by detachments from another company in the western part of the state early today.

Strikers In Colorado to Hear Speech by President

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 24.—President

Wilson, in Colorado tomorrow, will face his first audience of steel strikers. At Pueblo, where the president delivers an address Thursday afternoon, strikers from the Rockefeller steel works there will attend in a body. Banners will confront the president, telling of the workers' demands.

The presidential party arrives in Denver from Cheyenne at 11 o'clock tonight. Despite the lateness of the hour, a big crowd is expected to greet the president. Lights and flags have been draped across the street leading from the station to the Brown Palace Hotel, where the chief executive will occupy the presidential suite. Wilson will speak at the city auditorium at 9:30 Thursday morning, following a short parade through the downtown streets. A municipal holiday has been proclaimed and preparations have been made to handle an enormous crowd.

Labor Committee Urged to Take Part In Strike Quiz

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Senator

Kenyon today urged every member of the senate labor committee to take part in the senate investigation of the steel strike, which is to begin tomorrow with John Fitzpatrick, representing the workers, as the first witness.

Judge E. H. Gary, head of the United States Steel Corporation, who also was asked to appear Thursday, notified Kenyon he could not come to Washington for a week. Kenyon, therefore, will proceed with Fitzpatrick.

Other witnesses will be called today for later in the week, Kenyon said. He regards it imperative that the inquiry, if it is to accomplish anything, shall be speeded up.

That legislation may be unnecessary after full publicity has been given to the facts, is his belief.

Extra Guards Are Placed At Indiana Harbor Plant

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—The first volence of the steel strike in the Chicago district today resulted in extra guards being thrown about the plant of the Marks Manufacturing Company at Indiana Harbor, Ind. Eight men, badly beaten, when a mob of 400 strikers surrounded a changing shift, were taken to an emergency hospital.

Police said 800 men returned to work in the slab mills of the Illinois Steel Company plant in South Chicago today. There were signs of renewed life behind the barricades to bear out the statement.

The men attacked said they had just completed drawing all fires with the intention of remaining away from the plant thereafter. The trouble occurred at 6 p. m. The strikers, after jeering the men, began throwing bricks. A few shots were exchanged. The Chicago district was calm throughout the night and early today with that one exception.

wireless telephone and telegraph the work of a thousand, blackened, nearly exhausted, fire fighters below.

On the roads and trails walked women and children retreating from the burning fire, while the men stayed behind to save what could be saved.

The fire line runs from the San Gabriel canyon in the Angeles reserve to back of Mount Wilson where the two fires—the one which started two weeks ago in the San Gabriel canyon and the other which started in the Santa Barbara reserve—have not joined.

During the night the fire swept through little Tejonja canyon, devastated the $100,000 ranch and summer home of Cecil De Mille, motion picture producer and at midnight threatened to cross into Dark canyon, which would mean not only the destruction of many fine homes, but serious damage to the Pasadena water supply.

Forces were rallied in Pasadena to draw a fire line atop the divide between Dark canyon and the Tejonja.

Near San Fernando

The fire line now is within about three miles of San Fernando. The county food control camp, a large grading camp and a number of homes in that region have been destroyed. The Standard Oil pumping plant near Newhall, threatened yesterday, still is intact but not yet out of danger.

In the San Gabriel region the property damage is not as heavy. Camp Rincon, reported yesterday as destroyed, was saved by a hard fight and the erection of an effective fire guard.

New fires broke into serious proportions late yesterday in the San Bernardino mountains. Women and children were driven from Skyline while the men rallied in a fight still in progress to save Thousand Pines, Skyline and the Los Angeles municipal playgrounds.

Oroville High School Lads Help Battle Forest Blaze

OROVILLE, Cal., Sept. 24.—Fires

are still burning in the zone surrounded by Bidwell Bar, Harts Mills, Kanaka Hills and Enterprise. Thirty high school boys from Oroville have joined the fighters.

Approximately forty thousand acres have been burned over, or are still in flames. There have been no casualties, although several fire fighters have been scorched.

Six homes have been destroyed, and the loss includes livestock and feed as well as timber.

Two hundred and fifty miles of British war medal ribbon are to be issued to the men and women entitled to these decorations through recent edicts of the king.

Developments expected today included an announcement from the Great Lakes seamen's union on the completion of its strike vote. A seamen's strike would further hamper the steel plants by cutting off their ore supply.

Charles M. Schwab, to whose concern steel workers directed an ultimatum demanding a conference, was to speak in Chicago today before the American Institute of Mining Engineers.

John Fitzpatrick, leader of the strikers in the Chicago district, expressed delight at the opportunity to appear before a congressional committee Thursday to explain the workers' attitude.

"I'll be there if I have to go by airplane," Fitzpatrick said.

RELIGION MAKES NATIONS WHAT THEY ARE

Rev. Paul Wright Says Denominations Entrenching Themselves

"The difference between peoples of this earth is the difference in their religions."

So declared Rev. Paul E. Wright, recently returned from Y. M. C. A. work in France, at the monthly dinner of the Men's Bible Class of the First Christian Church last night.

The speaker's subject for the evening was "The Place of Religion in the World Today." The address was an exceptionally fine one.

"My hobby," said Rev. Wright, "is just folks. I like to see people; lots of people, and when I was away with the Y, I made a study of the people I saw."

"Religion is as fundamental in the nature of a human being as is hunger. Religion starts with the boy. In fact, everything we do has the roots of its cause deep down into the welfare and development of the boy. All of our problems start with the boy."

"One thing I have noticed since I returned from France is that the spirit of denominationalism is stronger in America than it ever was before. I know that there has been a great effort at getting together, and there is a tremendous spirit of co-operation abroad in the land. That is all true, but every sect is working stronger now than ever before upon the theory that in the hereafter it is going to have just a little bit the best seats. The denominations are digging in, and it seems to me they are more interested in their denominations than they are in humanity."

A CHRISTIAN NATION.

"America is a Christian nation, though not a church nation. Through the teachings of Christ, the spirit of Christianity is deep in the character of millions who are not church members. It is the spirit of the Christian religion that makes this nation what it is."

"A lot of things have been written from France in glorification of the French people. Let us give credit for the French as fighters and for what they did in the war, but let us study those people as people. Hindenburg said that the French were dying, but not dead. He was right. They were dying. As a nation, France is a nation of atheists. The government is inimical to the Catholic religion, which is the only religion the people in any considerable number have. Catholics don't even go to elections."

"France licenses vice of all kinds. As a rule, children are brought up in an atmosphere of it. They parade lust; we outlaw it. I expected to find the French very polite. They are not. The ordinary Frenchman has no regard for women. Time and again I have seen poor sick women sit all night on the floor of an aisle of a train, while big husky Frenchmen occupied the compartments."

Needs New Outlook.

"We are going to stand by France, but what she needs most is a different idea of things. Her people have become underminded, and her birth rate by reason of lust and alcohol had dropped tremendously even before the war started."

"America has breathed a religious atmosphere. That was shown in the way we backed up the army through the welfare associations."

The speaker reviewed the work of the Y. M. C. A. briefly, pointing out that it took over factories, theaters, and hotels and provided a vast amount of amusements and instruction for the men.

"At Brest," said he, "we had thirty-six huts and every hut was crowded every night. We were taking care of 40,000 men every night, and I tell you that the money put into the Y was well spent. Of course, there were mistakes. There were pinheads and crooks, and just as a person might be greatly aroused by a skunk and pass by many rose gardens, so these few created criticism."

"The army did not give the Y. M. C. A. a square deal. It had the Y take over the canteen, then did not give it shipping space, took its trucks and ran a canteen in competition."

Discussing conditions in the army in France in the long months after the armistice, Rev. Wright declared that the worst offenders in many regards were the officers.

For The League.

He declared himself strongly for the League of Nations.

"Shantung? Without a league, Japan keeps Shantung, that's certain. With a league, Japan will give up the sovereignty. Yet those who pose as friends of China are against the league. The league is the best guarantee that we won't get into a war."

Rev. F. T. Porter presided at last night's meeting, which came following an excellent chicken dinner. He called for short talks from Fleetwood Bell, T. E. Stephenson, James Sleeper and Charles B. Wheatley, who outlined some of the experiences of the Grizzlies overseas.

JAPANESE TRIES TO BITE OFF HIS FINGER

Adjudged insane by Superior Judge Williams, T. Kawashi, a Japanese, was today committed to the state asylum for the insane at Norwalk. Kawashi has been at the county farm since October 10 of last year, when he tried to commit hari-kari. Recently at the county farm he attempted to chew off the little finger of his right hand. He refuses to talk, information being obtained from him only by means of writing. Asked by an interpreter at the court house why he did not eat, Kawashi said that if he could live without taking nourishment it would prove him a god. While confined in a cell at the jail he attempted to hang himself on some telephone wires.

Five From Minnesota Want to Stay Here But Are Unable to Find Accommodations

"We would like to stay in Santa Ana, but apparently you don't want us, so we may be forced to go elsewhere. We were offered the privileges of the camp ground, to be sure, but winter is coming on and we want something more substantial and comfortable than a tent. If we don't get a house soon, we will have to go to Los Angeles, but we don't want to do that if we can help it."

This was the statement today of H. L. Greaves of Northfield, Minnesota, member of a party of seven who have just arrived in Southern California by auto from Minnesota. Included in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Greaves and their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Hulberg and daughter and O. G. Hulberg. The two young ladies have entered Pomona College and the other five are looking about for a place to remain until the end of the school term in the late spring. They are visiting temporarily with Walter Lasby of East Seventeenth street, an old-time friend.

All members of the Minnesota party have visited in Santa Ana before, and if they can secure a house, prefer this location to any other.

The trip was made in the Greaves Buick "Six" and Hulberg's Overland car, leaving Northfield on August 5. They visited the Yellowstone Park enroute and then came through Oregon, where it was decidedly wet.

The travelers had heard a lot about good roads, and kept looking for them all the way out, but didn't find any of consequence until they were inside the California line. Something of the character of the roads previously encountered may be judged from the fact that four springs were broken at different rough points along the line.

CITRUS CONVENTION AT CHICO NOV. 12-15

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 24.—The second week in November has been selected as the date for the holding of the Fifty-Second State Fruit Growers' Convention at Chico.

The County Horticultural Commissioners will hold their meeting during the first two days of the designated week, November 10 and 11. On the afternoon of the 11th a visit will be made to the United States Plant Introduction Gardens located southeast of Chico on Butte Creek. The convention proper will commence Wednesday, November 12 and continue to Saturday the 15th.

Wednesday will be occupied with a consideration of co-operation and standardization. Thursday the meeting will be held at Oroville and the subject will be citrus and olives.

Friday will find the convention back at Chico and the subject of discussion will be deciduous fruits.

Saturday the morning being devoted to an inspection of the State Land Settlement there, and the afternoon to a general farming discussion.

STUDENT BODY TO BUY ONLY ON REQUISITIONS

In order to prevent confusion, a system for purchase by the student body of the Santa Ana High School has been adopted. Principal D. K. Hammond has sent out the following notice to merchants:

"This is to advise that a system of numbered requisitions has been established for the purpose of handling the business transactions of the student body of the high school.

"Hereafter when goods are purchased, a requisition signed by the president of the student body and approved by a member of the faculty, Mr. W. M. Clayton, the vice-principal, must be presented.

"Merchants are hereby notified that no bills will be paid for supplies purchased without a requisition.

"We are putting in this system for the protection of all concerned, and shall appreciate your co-operation."

VANDERLIP PURCHASES BIG BLOCK OF BONDS

Highway bonds to the amount of $4,000,000 have been bought by F. A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank of New York city. The highway is to go from Oxnard to San Juan Capistrano, and will skirt the ocean side of Mr. Vanderlip's 15,000 acres, the Palos Verdes ranch.

Because the rate of interest was so low, the State Highway Commission feared the bonds would not be sold. Mr. Vanderlip purchased the entire issue on condition that work be started immediately.

The strip of highway is 100 miles long and will link all the beach towns from Capistrano to Huemene, the nearest coast town to Oxnard.

Orange county residents are interested in the new highway from the fact that it will link up in a highway of great scenic charm the beach towns of Capistrano, Arch Beach, Laguna Beach, Balboa, East Newport, Newport Beach, Huntington Beach and Seal Beach in Orange county.

L. A. AUCTION CO. BUYS DAMAGED STOCK

Reinhaus Bros. Will Not Dispose of Goods Injured by Fire Locally

There will be no fire sale by Reinhaus Brothers. Completing adjustments with the fire insurance companies with whom policies were carried, Reinhaus Brothers today have sold the entire stock of fire damaged goods to a Los Angeles auction firm, and the goods will be moved to Los Angeles at once for disposition in that city. The store will open about November 1 with a brand new stock. The stock is a large one and the damage is mostly by water and smoke. There are many pieces where the damage is only slight and where good service probably would be given by the goods.

Determined to protect the reputation they have established through long years of business life in Santa Ana, the firm decided to accept an offer from a Los Angeles auction house to take over the entire stock. There will be none of the damaged goods on hand when the firm resumes business about the first of November.

With the stock disposed of in this manner, Reinhaus Brothers will be taking no chances on complaints from patrons who might buy the goods under a fire sale, where such goods might not give the service expected by the purchaser. The firm's reputation would suffer as a consequence.

"While a piece of goods damaged by smoke may look to be absolutely all right, there is a chemical action that takes effect that impairs the quality," declared a member of the firm this morning. "We do not wish to run the risk that such a sale entails and therefore have disposed of the entire damaged stock."

"When we reopen with an entire new stock our patrons will know that our goods are of the quality we have always handled, and there will be no chance for complaints."

Pennsylvania Will Hold Annual Reunion In Los Angeles, Oct. 4

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—The monthly reunion of the Pennsylvania Society will be held in Forum hall, No. 203 Mercantile Place, Thursday evening, October 9th, opening at 8:00 o'clock. To this reunion all former residents of the old Keystone State are cordially invited. There will be a popular program, readings and musical numbers. Refreshments will be served and dancing will follow for those who care to indulge. Meetings are held the second Thursday evening of each month in this hall.

All who have ever lived in the Keystone state are called by President Farr and Secretary McCrea to meet under the auspices of the Pennsylvania Society of Southern California for a great picnic reunion, all day Saturday, October 4th, in Sycamore Grove, Los Angeles. Come as early as you can and spend the day with friends. There will be county registers and headquarters open all day. There will be a brief program opening about 2 o'clock, but the main purpose will be to have a good time.

Prizes will be offered, and there will be new and novel features. Tourists and visitors from the old home state, and especially the soldier boys, are invited. Take baskets well filled; also cup and spoon. Coffee will be served free to all who buy souvenir badges.

Each who learns of this picnic is asked to pass the word along. Further information may be had from C. H. Parsons, secretary of the Federation of State Societies, Hibernian Savings Bank, (in the former location of the California Savings Bank) Spring and Fourth streets, Los Angeles, Phones, 60461; Main 6788.

WHEN TO GATHER ROOTS AND HERBS

For medicinal purposes, roots and herbs should be gathered when their medicinal properties are at their best. For instance, roots of annual plants should be dug just before their flowering season, and roots of biennial or perennial plants after the tops have dried. All these things are taken into consideration in gathering the roots and herbs, many tons of which are used annually in preparing that most successful of all remedies for woman's ills, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.—Advertisement.

MAKE TWO TRIPS TO MARRY IN SANTA ANA

Couple's Persistency Rewarded
By Knot Being Tied
Here Last Night

The same consistency in their determination to get married in Santa Ana probably brought the hearts of Chas. W. Reeves and Hannah White of Los Angeles to the point where they wanted to beat as one.

The couple came here Sunday to get married and were disappointed by reason of inability to secure a license or locate City Recorder Heathman, whom they wanted to officiate. Neither County Clerk Backs, nor any of his deputies could be located, and Col. Heathman was in Los Angeles, where he had gone the day before to be on hand to join the multitude in welcoming President Wilson, which event he followed up by attending church in Los Angeles on Sunday.

Last night the two young people again appeared in Santa Ana. It was long toward 10 o'clock when they came into town, and at once proceeded to locate the officials necessary to bring about the desire of their hearts.

Col. Heathman was found at his office in the city hall, having by accident gone there after attending a show. Backs had just gotten home from a show when his telephone bell rang. Arrangements were made for him to go to the clerk's office to issue the license.

The knot was tied with promptness by Heathman, and after the groom had tipped both officials in a handsome manner, the happy couple left for Los Angeles, with the world and the future never appearing brighter to them.

They were determined to marry in Santa Ana—and they did—notwithstanding assertions of a certain judge in Los Angeles that a large percentage of weddings occurring in this city result in disaster.

MEDICINE MAN AGED 109 YEARS IS DEAD

PRINCE RUPERT, Canada, Sept. 24.—Having lived to see the power of his medicine "rattle" pale before the science of the white man, Skookum Charles Williams, famous medicine man of the people of the Rabbits at Kitwongah, B. C., died this week at the age of 109 years. His tribe gave its name to a reserve on the Skeena river, ninety miles inland from Prince Rupert, and there, in the full flush of his weird authority, Skookum Charles conjured spirits, led strange dances and proved his right to his position by the acumen with which he maintained it.

That was long before the steel highway penetrated the north country. It brought with it doctors and colored medicine in bottles, and Charlie's influence began to wane. Of late years he has presented a rather pathetic appearance, a wizened little creature crouched in the door of his ramshackle log cabin, under which it has since developed were cached $700.

He had been blind for years, and three years ago he prepared his tombstone and placed it at the foot of his totem pole. He spoke no English, but readily understood the language of "smoked" and "small change."

CHILD FALLS 29 FEET AND IS ONLY BRUISED

DOUGLAS, Tex., Sept. 24.—Raymond Essex, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Essex of this city, fell out of a second-story window at his home, and landed on the cement steps to the basement, twenty-nine feet below, and he is up and around apparently uninjured with the exception of scratches and bruises and lameness on one side. Mrs. Washburn was first to arrive to his aid. She thought him dead when she picked him up, but he soon regained consciousness.

BRANDS SOLDIER OF FORTUNE AS NUISANCE

Adventures Are Menace to Peace As They Always Seek Trouble

By PERCY M. SARL

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Sept. 24.—The "soldier of fortune" once regarded as such a picturesque figure—a dare-devil who organized revolutions in Central and South America, the Balkans, and the wilds of Turkestan—is at a discount. There are too many of him, and far from being considered picturesque, he is now voted a general nuisance. The Sunday Express recently went farther and voted him "a renegade, an enemy of civilization, and an international criminal" deserving of short shrift and no ceremony in suppression.

Thoughtful statesmen and leaders of public opinion recognize that one of the greatest dangers to the preservation of world peace is the vast horde of adventurers turned loose on a world trying to turn from destruction to reconstruction. The break up of the Central Empires, and the compulsory reduction of their huge armies, has flooded Europe with an army of jobless officers whose only profession is that of the original soldiers of fortune from all parts of the world. You can't legislate a born adventurer to the fireside and when the armistice was signed last November, many of these enthusiasts found another opening in the extraordinary crop of campaigns being waged in Russia and the Baltic provinces. When the British war office called for volunteers to rescue the marooned Archangel and Murmansk forces, it easily obtained all the men it wanted. The number of officers and ex-officers applying was remarkable. They were of the old adventurer type, and were so determined to get back to war that they resigned commissions wholesale and enlisted in the ranks. All the units of the relief force had bunches of privates who had commanded battalions, batteries and companies in France and elsewhere.

Were they content to stay in such units there would not be too much harm done, and they could doubtless obtain their fill of fighting, but the soldier of fortune abhors routine, and the ex-officer hungers for command. He usually obtains it in "native levies" who can be brought to efficiency by his experience and methods of instruction. The new nations, like the Estonians, Letts, Lithuanians, Czechoslovaks, Jugo-Slavs, Silesians, Ukrainians and others who had not hitherto had much opportunity of fighting as independent peoples, were flattered by the invasion of military instructors, men who had won fame on the field of Armageddon, and once the soldier of fortune obtained a footing, he soon found openings for men of his own kind.

Profession Overcrowded
But the profession has become overcrowded, and already the world, tired of war, is objecting. In the Australian parliament recently, members protested against the presence of Australian soldiers in the British North Russian force, and the Minister of Defence had to promise to endeavor to secure their return.

The London "Daily Herald" protested against the attempt of the Lithuanian Military Mission in Paris to recruit a brigade of 6000 Americans for service against Germans and Bolsheviks alike. Incidentally the Lithuanians are said to have secured many American and British volunteers, but there is a strong movement afoot for international action to prevent this armed intervention in the affairs of other nations by international would-be Napoleons.

The Sunday Express said: "These individuals are irresponsible, their own native countries have no control or authority over them, and they are a perpetual menace to the maintenance of peace. They are the enemies of civilization, and civilization will have to concert measures to deal with the adventurer as an international criminal."

There is a fine chance for the League of Nations to draw up a new and drastic list of penalties for violators of an international "Foreign Enlistment Law."

CELEBRATED GOLDEN WEDDING ON SUNDAY

PRADO, Sept. 24.—This is a world of trials, suffering and happiness. Such is the case with Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Meredith of Prado. Mrs. Meredith has been sick for two years, steadily getting worse. To cheer them up their friends came to their home at Prado Sunday last to help celebrate their golden wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Meredith were united in marriage 50 years ago at Clinton, Iowa. Sunday she wore the same brooch that she wore on the day she became a bride. The dinner Sunday was served on the same dishes that she had at that time. Their relatives and friends surprised them with lots of good things to eat. Mrs. Meredith is a sister-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Harrington of Fullerton. Those present at the fiftieth anniversary were Orin Meredith of Prado, their youngest son; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Harrington, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Matzen and son of Fullerton; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harrington and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Korb and son, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jones and two daughters of Los Angeles.

THE RUSSIAN LESSON

Herbert Hoover, in the first public speech made since his return to the United States, gave a striking presentation of Socialism as he has seen it exemplified in Russia. Its fine theories, he explained, have been discredited in a startling fashion. "It has proved itself with rivers of blood and suffering to be an economical and spiritual fallacy." Specifically, it has "wrecked itself on the rock of production," where many of its critics foresaw no danger.

The experiment, he explained, had a fair, even a favorable chance. The Russians, though long subjected to political tyranny, were, with the exception of a small minority, pretty well off in the material things of life. They were comparatively well fed, warmly clothed and warmly housed. They produced enough to provide these primary comforts and export more foodstuffs than the United States. Then what happened?

"Socialism was brought in overnight at the hands of a small minority of intellectual dilettantes and criminals. And this tyranny of minority, more terrible even than the old, has now had nearly two years in which to effect the conversion of the wicked competitive system into the elysium of Communism. Two-thirds of the railways and three-fourths of the rolling stock that they control are out of operation. The whole population is without any normal comforts of life and plunged into the most grievous famine of centuries. Its people are dying at the rate of hundreds of thousands monthly from starvation and disease. The capital city has diminished in population from nearly 2,000,000 to less than 600,000. The streets of every city and village have run with the blood of executions. Nor have these executions been confined to the so-called middle and upper classes, for latterly the opposition of the workmen and farmers to this regime has brought them also to the firing squad in appalling numbers."

As a result, the ruling group of "mixed idealists and murderers" have begun to change their economic and social ideas. They have abandoned socialization of the land, Mr. Hoover says, because they find the farmer will not produce for mere altruistic promises. They have established a state savings bank to stimulate individual thrift. They are offering enormous salaries for men capable of directing the agencies of production. They are restoring private ownership, step by step, and depending more and more on competitive effort and the instinct of possession to increase production, and thus keep the people from starvation and restore their normal life.

It is a lesson which every American radical should ponder. Through Russia's sufferings, America and other intelligent nations may be saved from a generation of retrogression and suffering.

THE BOY IN THE MOB

In reports of the recent riots in Boston, and similarly from other points in the country where there have been disturbances, the statement is made that the offending rioters are mostly boys.

It is difficult often for the authorities to deal with street uprisings just for this reason. In the forefront of every mob are boys so young that hesitation is felt in applying the stern measures of suppression which could be dealt out without mercy were the mob composed of the older men who started the trouble. But even a mob composed largely of young boys can do infinite damage, and by its lawless excitement extend the mob spirit far and wide.

The boys are not really to blame. The blame rests with the older individual who brings violence to his cause or preaches violence to others. The boy goes headlong because he is a boy. He has not the judgment to weigh the evidence or realize the danger.

Wherever street brawling occurs it must be broken up first, and unhappily, if it has attained such proportions that armed attack is necessary, this means must be employed. If in the course of such action young boys are maimed or lose their lives it is to be deplored, but the public safety is the first consideration.

When the trouble subsides, however, the instigators of such rioting should be sought out, and punished not only for their own acts, but for the effect of their example upon the youth of the community. For, as the Washington Star points out:

"Their corruption of youth is a greater and graver offense than their violation of specific laws. For the boy of this day becomes the man of a later day; and if when a boy he is incited to violence and grows up in such an atmosphere he exhibits his vicious training as long as he lives. And the men who start him on his career become responsible for him and his misdeeds, however numerous and spread out over the years."

PLANS ENFORCEMENT

With the enactment of the law to make federal prohibition effective, one of the hardest tasks of law enforcement that ever fell to the lot of a public official devolves upon Daniel C. Roper, commissioner of internal revenue.

It seems odd that congress should have given the job to this particular department, which has heretofore been purely a revenue-collecting agency, and whose relations to the liquor traffic might be supposed to have terminated with the ending of that traffic. Mr. Roper protested vigorously, but without effect. He has therefore announced that, if he must enforce that law, he is going to do it thoroughly.

To this end he asks for the co-operation of all federal, state, municipal and other public officials, down to the smallest town constable, and for the moral support of the public, without which there can be no hope of success. He has started to build up a strong force of agents to report violations and collect evidence. The work will be carried on in conjunction with the Department of Justice. A joint appropriation of $3,500,000 has been provided for that purpose. The chief burden, however, is assumed by the Internal Revenue Department.

Thus far there has been little attempt at enforcement. The law has operated chiefly through the acquiescence of liquor manufacturers and dealers and the natural law-abiding tendency of the American public. There has been of late, however, a growing tendency to disregard the law. Laxity cannot be tolerated. It is necessary for the nation's self-respect if for no deeper reason, to carry out its provisions in spirit and letter. This the government will try to do, and all good citizens should help as best they can.

"We are all on edge nervously," says a well known American minister. "During the war, fathers and mothers at home and boys at the front did not realize that all the while their nerves were being held tense. After the armistice was signed their nerves went on strike, joined a big union of mutinous nerves. That nervous reaction had to come." Perhaps that is really the chief thing wrong with the world today morally, industrially and politically. All this frenzied quest for pleasure and amusement in many lands—what is it but an effort to relieve overstrained nerves?

Educators' Salaries

—Long Beach Press—

Harvard University is seeking to raise an endowment fund of $15,000,000. Stanford University is in quest of from $7,000,000 to $10,000,000. Both these great institutions are planning to use a liberal portion of the funds raised for increasing the salaries of professors.

College and university professors, as a rule, are pitifully underpaid. It is hardly too strong an assertion to say that they are shamefully underpaid. Many of the leading instructors in the higher institutions of learning of the country make no more than men employed at unskilled, menial labor. This is not to argue that unskilled labor should be paid less, but that professors should be paid more. Men and women engaged in educational pursuits must devote their time and mind exclusively to their work. They must depend upon their salaries not only for present needs, but for the surplus that the "rainy day" period of their life demands. These faithful men and women, who contribute so greatly to the enlightenment, culture and fine citizenship of the nation, should be paid justly for their labors.

Ballots, Not Bullets

—Pasadena Star-News—

In this period of unrest, with doctrines strange and repugnant to loyal Americans being preached in certain quarters of the land, it cannot be emphasized too much that this nation needs no revolution of violence; and that those who advocate, directly or indirectly, the overthrow of the existing order of things in America by violence and bloodshed, are enemies of this nation, and should be so regarded.

There is no wholesome, needed, beneficial evolution that cannot be effected in this country through orderly, constitutional processes. The people rule. The ballot is their supreme and wholesome weapon. No "Big Bertha" is worthy to be compared with it as a means of bringing to pass betterments in government.

It would be well if every voter—if every man, woman and child in the land—would commit to memory these lines from John Pierpont, a rugged American loyalist in his day: A weapon that comes down as still As snowflakes fall upon the sod; But executes a freeman's will, As lightning does the will of God. And from its force nor doors nor locks Can shield you—'tis the ballot-box.

TO THE RESCUE

Tribute to America

(From Stockton Independent)

On the spot where the first American troops landed in 1917, the people of France have begun the erection of a statue commemorating this historic incident.

As long as France remains a nation, this spot will be one of the shrines of her people. Legends will grow up about the spot, legends about the American soldiers, legends about the great republic beyond the seas whose men came, like Joan of Arc of old, to drive the foreigners from the soil so dear to the hearts of every Frenchman.

Contrast this monument erected as an expression of the undying gratitude to the monuments left by the Germans not so many miles away. For centuries, too, these will linger on, but the dust and decay of the years will not be sufficient to cover up their message or to bury the story of their birth.

No one can hope for better things for America in her relations with other peoples in the years while she, too, is a great nation than to have the monument of honor and esteem erected to her and the monuments of wrong, falsehood and dishonor be left to others.

As Plymouth Rock has been an inspiration for honest living and character achievement in the lives of individual Americans and for fine aspirations in the life of the nations, so may that other monument on the shores of the English channel remind Americans to watch their steps in their dealings with the world.

Every lover of this country will covet such monuments for America. They give new luster to the stars and stripes. They refute the libel of money, madness and frivolity. They speak of devotion to principles of right and justice, of love of liberty of sympathy for the weak and help for the helpless.

Worth While Verses

THE DROUTH

The rose-bush limbs are clinging to the trellis most forlorn,
The golden-rod is drooping by the road;
The ivy has a pallid tint as in the summer morn
It clammers weakly over its abode,
The pasture's seared to leather-brown, the trees stand tense and still,
The bushes here and there wear dust-gray shrouds;
A burning sheen comes filtering down from scorched and blistered hill,
On silent, smothered valley, in hot clouds.

The flies buzz on the screen door and the crafty spiders flout,
The bees hum in a listless monotone;
The shepherd dog sprawls 'neath the porch, his red tongue lolling out,
And the cat stretched on the mat is left alone,
A sort of coma seems to hold the sweltering earth in thrall;
All nature's voices murmur low that often tease and call,
And joyfulness seems strangled nigh to death.

And then the heavens don the veil of gray they long did scorn,
The belching thunder crashes loud and high;
The lurid lightning darts and gleams and urges on the storm,
As it flashes startling signals to the sky;
The rain descends in silver sheets that shimmer in the space,
The trees send wig-wag messages broadcast,
And in the glorious after-hour, when God has bathed her face,
We see sweet Nature smile, her illness past.

OBSERVATIONS

The Crown Princess of Germany, after applying for a divorce, is visiting the crown prince. Probably to see if he is as bad as she thought, or only worse.

Horoscope for today: This is a rarely fortunate day—for everybody who keeps calm, minds his own business, hangs onto his money and does a full day's work.

The Ten Biggest American Cities are quarreling about their population again. The salient fact, obvious to outsiders, is that every one of them is overgrown, disorganized and nearly bankrupt, and pitifully incapable of taking care of the population it brags about.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

REDLANDS, Sept. 24.—Lieut. E. W. Shirk, recently of this city, and a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kimberly of Kimberly Crest, died at St. Luke's Hospital in Chicago of septic meningitis. He had suffered from an injury to the inner ear caused by his jumping overboard from a transport en route to Brest to save a Belgian girl who had fallen over.

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 24.—Practically a unanimous sentiment in favor of constructing a storage water system was expressed at a special meeting of the South Tule Independent Ditch Company, when the stockholders voted to increase the capital stock from $24,000 to $90,000 and proceed immediately with construction which will entail an estimated expenditure of $70,000.

EL CENTRO, Sept. 24.—The board of directors of the irrigation district wired Chairman Moses Kincaid of the Arid Lands Committee in Washington requesting immediate action on the all-American canal bill. The bill is now before the committee and will be reported out within a short time.

LONG BEACH, Sept. 24.—Fred Hoffman, whose resignation as city engineer was accepted, has been awarded a contract at $190,000 to construct eight miles of state highway in Mt. Canyon, near Palmdale, in the northern part of Los Angeles county. Contractors in many other cities bid upon this work. Mr. Hoffman's successor as city engineer was not named.

REDLANDS, Sept. 24.—The increase in enrollment has made it necessary for the Redlands city schools to open an additional room for the fourth grade in McKinley school and three new grades in the Lincoln building, also a kindergarten for the first time in Crafton. Superintendent Clement spent several days in Los Angeles last week and secured three additional teachers.

PASADENA, Sept. 24.—There are so many students in the Pasadena city schools and the twenty-three school buildings are so crowded, that the board of education is planning to relieve the situation by holding double sessions. The most crowded school in the city is the John Muir Intermediate High School, where nearly 700 pupils are enrolled.

STRIKERS NOW EMPLOYERS

GENOA, Ark., Sept. 24.—Genoa longshoremen recently converted themselves in twenty-four hours from striking workmen to employers of labor. They obtained through the strike a day wage of $6.50 and the following day hired other men for their jobs at $2 a day, thereafter living easy lives on the remaining $4.50 for eight hours' management of the two-dollar-a-day underlings.

VOTE IN FAVOR OF RETURN OF RAILROADS

Opinion of Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce Listed With Others

The returns of the referendum vote cast in California on the railroad plan submitted by the chamber of commerce of the United States shows that the commercial organizations of Bakersfield, Coalinga, El Centro, Los Angeles, Martinez, Oakland, Pasadena, Riverside, Sacramento, San Diego, San Francisco, San Jose, Santa Ana and Whittier voted in favor of "corporate ownership and operation with comprehensive regulation," and all but Sacramento voted in favor of "return of the roads to corporate operation as soon as remedial legislation can be enacted."

Alhambra, Arcata, Berkeley, Concord, Fresno, Gilroy, Los Gatos, Madera, Hollister, King City, Long Beach, Monterey, Orland, Palo Alto, Pomona, Redding, San Jose, Santa Barbara, Taft, Ventura and Walnut Creek, which belong to the national chamber, did not avail themselves of the opportunity to vote.

The fourteen organizations participating in the referendum, with the exception of Sacramento, also went on record as favoring "consolidation of railroads, in the public interest, with prior approval by government authority, in a limited number of strong competing systems"; excepting Oakland and Sacramento, favoring a "requirement that railroad companies engaged in interstate business become federal corporations, with rights of taxation and police regulation retained by the states; excepting Martinez and Sacramento, favoring "exclusive regulation of capital expenditures and security issues"; excepting Sacramento, favoring "federal regulation of intrastate rates affecting interstate rates"; excepting Sacramento, San Diego and Santa Ana, favoring a "statutory rule providing that rates in each traffic section shall yield an adequate return on a fair value of the property as determined by public authority"; excepting Riverside, Sacramento and San Francisco, favoring a "federal transportation board to promote development of a national system of rail, water and highway transportation and articulation of all transportation facilities."

The complete returns on the referendum show that from eighty to ninety-nine per cent of votes cast in forty-eight states were for the following propositions:

To return the roads to their owners for operation with comprehensive regulation.

To bring about the consolidation of the roads in a limited number of strong competing systems, hooking weak lines up with the strong ones.

To require the roads to take out federal charters, the states to retain taxing and police powers.

To provide for federal regulation of capital expenditures and security issues.

To provide for federal regulation of intrastate rates affecting interstate rates.

To provide for a statutory rule of rate-making.

To create a federal transportation board.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States, therefore, is committed by the referendum vote to the general railroad plan outlined, and the chairman of the railroad committee, George A. Post of New York, has presented the plan to the appropriate committees of congress.

Thirty different plans for disposing of the railroads have been offered, but only two have had referendum treatment—the chamber of commerce plan which has the endorsement of

FOUR CHILDREN BORN TO THIS GRANDMOTHER

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 24.—Mrs. Annina Lizzi one day recently gave birth to four children, two boys and two girls, in her modest home, No. 516 Pierce street. All the children are reported to be healthy and the mother is said to be doing very well. The boys are to be named Dominic and Antonio, while the girls will be called Rita and Martha. Mrs. Lizzi is a native American, but her husband, John Lizzi, was born in Italy. They were married twenty-six years ago, when Mrs. Lizzi was only fifteen years old. They have had in all eighteen children, thirteen of whom are still living. They have also five grandchildren.

THE HUMBLE HOMECOMING

Home! Home! Sweet, sweet home! Be it ever so humble, There's no place like home.

It has an humble ice box That is full of humble cheer, It has an humble armchair, And some humble couches near.

There's an humble mattress waiting On an humble little bed Where, on a humble evening over, I may rest my humble head.

There is humble running water For my humble morning lave; And there's water, hot, in plenty, For my humble morning shave.

There is humble electricity, And also humble gas; I push an humble button, And I light 'em as I pass.

The country is a charming place To wander wild and free, But when it comes to humble-ness, My humble home for me.

Venison Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Sharpless of Tustin, gave a venison dinner party last evening for their daughter, Miss Ada May Sharpless and a number of her friends who are leaving this week for U. S. C.

Guests were Misses Helen Walker, Sarah Snow, Violet Wiesseman and Vivian Newman; Messrs. Calvin Lauterbach, Maurice Sparling, Earl Fraser, Bernard Packard and Monroe Sharpless.

Four Generations

An unusual gathering was held recently, when four generations took part in the celebration of the birthday occurring in this month of Mrs. J. C. Clark, her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Ryan, and grandmother, Mrs. G. W. Heimer of Santa Monica, at the home of Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Ryan at 501 Orange avenue.

An attractively appointed and appetizing dinner had been prepared for the guests and during its process and through the pleasant afternoon hours the interesting interchange of reminiscences can easily be imagined.

The fourth place of honor was given to Mrs. Harriett Jones of Wilmington, Mrs. Ryan's grandmother. Members of the family around this festive board were the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ryan and Mrs. Heimer, Mrs. Jones, Ed and Fred Jones and Miss Laura Barker.

McKinley P. T. A.

The McKinley P. T. A. will meet in the kindergarten rooms of the school Thursday at 2:30 p. m. Anyone interested in child welfare and all others are urgently requested to be present to meet the new teachers. A good program has been arranged.

W. C. T. U. Meeting

The W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rankin recently. Mrs. Jones presided in the absence of Mrs. W. F. Rose.

Mrs. Sturgeon led the devotionals and Mrs. S. M. Davis had charge of the program. Superintendent J. A. Cranston explained school laws and S. M. Davis the prohibition laws. Both the talks were instructive and interesting and with community singing and Edison music a pleasant social evening was passed.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Rankin served fruitade.

Church Organizations

Last evening the Loyal Men's Bible class of the First Christian church enjoyed a banquet served by the Ladies' Aid Society. This was the regular monthly banquet the men make it a point to have and as a special attraction, Rev. Paul E. Wright spoke to them about conditions in the country and in the army.

There were a number of lively short talks by others present, making this first meeting of the fall most successful. Places were laid for seventy-five.

Next Sunday is to be Reconstruction Day at the church for the Bible school members. A special program has been arranged and the topic for discussion will be "Reconstruction at Home as Well as Abroad."

Active members of the church are centering their energies now for the all-day service to be held a week from Sunday, when a strong endeavor will be made to have every member of the church attend the services, if not for all day, at least bring some part of it. At this time Rev. Porter will be assisted by F. M. Dowling of Placentia, both in the morning and afternoon.

Thursday afternoon and evening the district convention meets at the Aachen Christian church. The state secretary, P. M. Rogers, will be present and the work for the year discussed and planned, keeping in mind the idea of unity, so that the churches might work together as far as possible to accomplish the same purpose or end.

The Philathea and Rainbow Circle societies are continuing their good work with regular monthly meetings. The Philatheas are to meet Friday evening at the home of Miss Clara Minter. They are planning now to give an African entertainment in the near future in honor of Royal Dye, a returned African missionary.

There are no busier ladies in town today than those of the Congregational church, for today they began their walnut picking bee, a custom started last year which brought relief to walnut growers who found it difficult in getting assistance.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church gave a tea this afternoon at the home of Mrs. P. H. Covington on South Birch street.

The woman's Missionary Society of the Baptist church has organized two study classes, one to cover Christian organization and the other the book, "Crusade of Compassion." These societies are to meet with Mrs. J. W. Taylor and Mrs. M. M. Holmes every Monday afternoon.

Preparations for 200 have been made for the banquet to be given this evening by the Christian Endeavor Society to all present and former members and young people of the church. The gathering is principally for the reorganization of young people's work, which will be divided into four different classes.

Among the speakers for the evening are County President John Henderson, Santa Ana; Rev. Bruce Black, P. E. Brown, Field Secretary of C. P. E. Unions, Roy Horton, Intermediate Superintendent, Alma Bertschin, assistant Junior Superintendent and J. P. Welles, ex-State President, all of Los Angeles.

The church in a general way is anticipating the fellowship visitation week from October 5 to 12, and on the 12th there will be an all-day meeting at the church. The program for that day is receiving close attention and promises to be of unusual excellence.

To-Attend U. S. C.

Among the students leaving today or early Thursday morning for U. S. C. are Misses Eleanor Sturgeon, Vivian Cox, Helen Walker, Violet Wiesseman, Ada May Sharpless, Sarah Snow, Vivian Newman, Mildred Severance; Messrs. Bertram Snow, John Wehrly, Henry Poyet, Monroe Sharpless, Paul Bruns and Calvin Lauterbach. Maurice Alexander went up the early part of the week and with Mr. Bruns and Mr. Poyet will attend the law school.

Santa Ana Ebels

The Ebels will hold its first meeting for the season on Monday afternoon, September 29th, at Elks' hall. The monthly meetings have always before been on the last Saturday of the month, but for several years it has been felt that the attendance and membership roll of Ebels suffered through the fact that many people leave town for the week-end on Saturday afternoon, and last spring the society voted to change the meeting day to Monday.

Monday's meeting will be held in the dining room at Elks' Hall. A short business session, a very attractive short musical program, and an informal reception to the new members will start the year's work. Refreshments will be served and a social hour devoted to a friendly get-acquainted campaign will close the afternoon.

Supreme President Coming

The Fraternal Brotherhood lodge will be honored tomorrow evening by a visit from the supreme president, Carlos S. Hardy, of Los Angeles.

A Pleasant Surprise

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Gerken were pleasantly surprised Monday evening when a number of friends gathered to celebrate their tenth anniversary.

The evening was spent with music and conversation, in the midst of which the honored people were presented with a beautiful cut glass bowl.

Delicious refreshments were served at a late hour. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. F. Newcomb and Mrs. Heckemeyer, Mr. and Mrs. Neelneke, E. C. H. Franzen and family, William Grecht and family, Mrs. Alfred Priess, the Misses Emma and Mary Klintworth, Henry Pandorf, Walter Gerken and Mr. and Mrs. H. Gerken and son Lehman.

Dined at Huntington Beach

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Fine and Mr. and Mrs. George W. Young were guests at dinner yesterday evening of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Candebat at Huntington Beach. Chicken gumbo, in real New Orleans southern style, was the piece de resistance.

Past Matrons Meet

Yesterday was a day which will be long remembered by the members of the Past Matrons' Association of Hermosa Chapter, O. E. S. Several little features will place it upon history's page.

Always planning pleasure for some one, it was evident the sisters had something "up their sleeves," when they assembled at the beautiful home of Mrs. Washington D. Barker at 1409 North Main street for a one o'clock luncheon.

The meal was faultlessly served, the hostess being assisted by her two daughters, Mrs. Roy Barker and Mrs. Sam Barker and Misses Zerman and Sutton.

Covers were laid for thirty-three, dainty hand-painted white rose and fern place cards guiding the guests, who were seated at one large and several small tables. White roses and maiden hair ferns were artistically arranged in decorations.

These units, which are the association's colors, were also carried out in the menu.

At the close of the luncheon the president of the association offered a toast to Mrs. Arthur Pease of Orange, presented her with a gold engraved locket and chain for the "wee guest," Barbara Elizabeth, who had recently arrived to brighten their home.

Mrs. Pease, who was worthy matron of Hermosa chapter in 1915, said in accepting the little token that she could have no fonder wish for her little daughter than that she might grow up and be able to claim the honor of being a past matron.

Mrs. Adelaide Hammond, past matron of Palestine chapter of Forsyth, Mont., joined the association, swelling the membership to thirty-seven.

Mrs. Maude E. Bowes will entertain the association at 435 South Gramercy place, Hollywood on October 25. Mrs. Barker, who proved herself such a charming hostess yesterday, was worthy matron of Vernon Chapter No. 35, at Gridley, Cal., in 1901.

Mrs. McCleery, Mrs. Trueblood, Mrs. O'Brien and Mrs. W. L. Grub were guests of the association. Others enjoying the splendid hospitality of the Barkers were:

Mmes. Balderston, Brook, Clayton, Crawford, Dunphy, Hammond, Ellis, Gordon, Kellogg, Evans, Medlock, Mitchell, Ella Palmer, Justina Palmer, Pease, Huntington, Peabody, Reeves, Martha Reinhaus, Thomas, Tubbs, Winbiger and Miss Pauline Reinhaus.

Jolly Wiener Bake

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Paul and family, Mr. and Mrs. Sid McCormack and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Avas and family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gully and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brown and family and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cole and family enjoyed a jolly wiener bake and watermelon feast last night at Orange County Park. After the discussion of the excellent supper, dancing was enjoyed.

Shiloh Circle

The ladies of Shiloh Circle met at the home of Mrs. Celia Hart on Fruit street Tuesday afternoon. The time was spent with social chat and refreshments were served, deliciously proving the ability of the ladies in a culinary way.

It being the birthday of one of the members, she was presented with a beautiful sandwich plate, which was received as heartily as it was given by the members of the order.

Those enjoying the afternoon were the hostess, Mrs. Celia Hart; the honoree, Mrs. Adaline Palmer, and Meses Wallace, Rutter, Butz, Malloy, Black-eter, Conkle, Gardner, Dinehart, Bell and all members of Shiloh Circle; Mesdames Mitchell, Winnell, McKen-ee and Mahoney, neighbors of Mrs. Hart and out of town guests, Mrs. Carmichael, daughter of the hostess from San Diego, and Mrs. Pfeiffer of Anaheim.

Informal Evening

Mr. and Mrs. George Phelps entertained informally last evening in honor of their son, Allen G. Phelps, who recently returned from the navy.

Singing, music and guessing contests furnished amusements for the evening and before the guests left, Mrs. Phelps served light refreshments.

Present were Messrs. and Meses. Fred Mott, Earl Cook, Roy Crane, Meses Mildred Dixie and Ethel Walker, Carl May, the honoree, Allen Phelps, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Phelps.

Plunge Party

Perhaps it wasn't noticeable, but there were fewer automobiles and girls in town yesterday afternoon, due to the fact that the big sisters pressed every machine they could borrow or, well maybe not steal, but they took all they could get and each with a freshman little sister, and the new girls from other points, in charge, drove down to Huntington Beach for the annual plunge party.

Needless to say, they had a good time.

INSURANCE MEN PICNIC NEXT SATURDAY

"Meet Me at Balboa," Slogan of California Agents' Association

With "Pleasure—Before Business" and "Meet Me at Balboa" as their mottoes, members of the California Association of Insurance Agents and their ladies are going to Balboa Saturday for a big get-together picnic. Fire and casualty insurance agents are included in the association, and not the least among them are Mac O. Robbins and John A. McFadden of Santa Ana, who have been active in arranging for the Balboa affair, the Santa Ana Insurance Club having the details in charge.

Some idea of the big doings may be obtained from the following official program for next Saturday, September 27:

Morning
Golf at Orange County Country Club, one of the sportiest 18-hole courses in Southern California.

Afternoon
Swimming races, diving contests, canoe tipping contests—between local agents and special agents.
Still water and surf bathing and boating for everyone.

Aquaplaning behind speedy motor boats, with President Matt Mancha, Justin Brooksleper and "Norwich Union Bill" Wallace as star performers.

A five-mile boat ride for all, around beautiful Balboa Bay and Orange County's Harbor.

Sunset Supper
A bounteous fish dinner, with all the fixin's, clam chowder, baked sea bass, home-made pie a la mode and all the rest—some eat! Dancing in the evening at Balboa Pavilion, Jazz? Oh, boy!

Business Sessions
Meeting of executive and legislative committees of the California Association of Insurance Agents at Balboa Pavilion at 10:30 a. m. (not p. m.)

Two short, brisk business sessions in the afternoon, from 5 to 6. One for local agents and one for special agents. Important business at both meetings, with discussions.

PELLEY AND WITMAN OPEN CONFECTIONERY

W. E. Pelley and W. C. Witman, who recently came here to open a confectionery and ice cream parlor on North Main street under the name of Pelley & Witman, are gradually perfecting the arrangements of the interior and equipment.

The store is neatly arranged and has an attractive and inviting appearance, with pretty palms located about the ice cream parlor. Whitman is in charge of the fountain and already has developed a local reputation as a mixer of good drinks.

While both are experienced candy makers, Pelley is giving his attention to this end of the business. He was engaged in wholesale business in Glendale for a time, and formerly conducted a strictly retail business there, Whitman becoming identified with him about a year ago.

The firm is introducing a line of home-made candies that is stated to be absolutely new in this city, and is making more or less of a specialty of this. The firm is catering to both retail and wholesale trade.

When the candy-making department is fully equipped and in order, the management will extend an invitation to the public to visit the factory at any time and watch the process of making the various kinds of candy. A kiss cutting and wrapping machine is one of the interesting pieces of equipment in the candy room. This cuts the paper and wraps chews, etc.

Crescent ice cream is handled by the firm.

The cane, beet and maple are the principal sugar producers, but there are nearly 200 other plants and trees that contain sugar in their sap.

WIFE'S TROUBLE COST THREE HUNDRED

Nothing Did Mrs. Sather Any Good
Until She Took
Tanlac

"I spent more than three hundred dollars during the past year for treatment and medicine for my wife, but she didn't get any relief until she commenced taking Tanlac," said Ole H. Sather, who lives at Hubbard, Oregon, while in the Owl Drug Store in Portland a few days ago.

"Up to the time my wife began taking Tanlac," continued Mr. Sather, "she had not been able to do her housework for about two years. She had been suffering from indigestion and stomach trouble all the time, and although she was under treatment, and had taken many different kinds of medicine, the trouble just seemed to get worse all the time. Finally, she came to Portland last spring and underwent a thorough examination and went under special treatment, but it didn't do her any good at all. Every time she ate anything she would suffer something awful with gas and cramping spells afterwards. Sometimes she would be so nauseated that she could hardly retain what she ate. She was very nervous, too, and never slept well, and would get up in the mornings feeling tired and worn out. She seemed to lose all her energy and strength, and finally got so weak and run down that she was about ready to give up all hope of ever getting any better."

"We had been reading about Tanlac and the good it was doing other people, so she decided to give it a trial. Well, sir, Tanlac has simply put her on her feet in little or no time, and now she is just as well and hearty as she ever was in her life. She eats three hearty meals every day now, and enjoys them, too, and the best part of it is, she never suffers afterwards. She has actually gained fifteen pounds in weight, and does all her housework without the least trouble. We are glad to give this statement, and we never lose an opportunity to boost Tanlac, for it certainly has done great things for my wife."

Tanlac is sold in Santa Ana by Rowley Drug Co., in Fullerton by G. W. Finch, in La Habra by R. H. Hilbert, in Huntington Beach by Ridgen's Pharmacy, in Orange by Dittmer's Mission Pharmacy, in Placentia by A. J. Robinson, in Tustin by Tustin Drug Co., in Brea by Brea Pharmacy, in Buena Park by Regal Drug Co., in Garden Grove by O. H. Anderson and in Laguna Beach by Laguna Beach Pharmacy.—Adv.

ARMENIAN RELIEF TO BE DISCUSSED

The Armenian and Syrian Relief committee for Southern California has called a regional conference to be held at the Ebell Clubhouse, 18th and Figueroa, Los Angeles, on Friday, September 26. Mr. Clarence Perry Burgess, general field secretary; Dr. Milton S. Littlefield of the Sunday School Commission to Turkey; Mrs. Florence Spencer Duryea, director of Women's Organizations, and Mr. Albert E. Beebe, director of the Speakers' Bureau, all of the National committee for Near East Relief, will present a comprehensive report of the relief work which is being done in Western Asia.

The conference will open at 10:00 o'clock in the morning and continue during the rest of the day. In the evening Dr. Lincoln A. Wirt will deliver his lecture, illustrated by moving pictures taken on the scene of the Near East tragedy.

The public is cordially invited to attend the entire conference. A fifty-cent luncheon will be served at the Ebell Clubhouse during the noon recess.

SWEETLY, LOVED WOMAN IS LAID TO LAST REST

Fragrance of Her Beautiful
Life Like That of Lovely Flowers

Slipping away as sweetly and as peacefully as she had lived, Mrs. Margaret Leah Smith yesterday afternoon was laid to rest in the Fairhaven mausoleum, the resting place of her husband and two of her children.

Many friends gathered at the beautiful home, which she loved so well, and where she had so long gathered those same friends about her, and where the fragrance of her lovely life and the sunshine of her bright smile will always linger, a pleasant memory.

The sweet little mother had not been changed by the hand of the angel of death, who bore her away to life eternal, and lying upon the snowy pillows of the handsome open casket, she was just asleep with the smile still upon her lips.

Flowers, which she so dearly loved, emblematic of the odor of sweetness shed upon those with whom she associated in this world, filled the home. The emblems were many and most beautiful, betokening the love and respect in which the family is held.

Rev. Perry F. Schrock, pastor of the First Congregational church, and Rev. Thomas E. Stevenson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated at the services, simple and impressive, in which the theme was not the lamentation of death, but the broadening out of a beautiful life into wider realms of joy. In the hopeful, soothing words of "Hide Thou Me," the wish of the one, who throughout her life had scattered sunshine and who would not wish her friends to think the last earthly thoughts of her in tears.

Music at Services
Clarence A. Gustlin, whose music was always a delight to Mrs. Smith during her lifetime, presided at the piano, and at the beginning of the services, softly played "The Consolation," by Mendelssohn. Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh sang beautifully "Hide Thou Me," and a quartet, composed of Mrs. Russell Coleman, Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, F. C. Rowland and Maurice Phillips, sang "Lead, Kindly Light," all being favorites with Mrs. Smith. The Sunday night before she was stricken she sang a verse of the beautiful hymn, "Hide Thou Me."

The services at the mausoleum were private, the remains being borne to their last resting place by old friends and neighbors of the family. Messrs. A. J. Crookshank, Clarence S. Crookshank, M. A. Yarnell, O. K. Forsy, Percy Rice and Ralph Collins. Mrs. Smith is survived by two children, Mrs. Ella Campau, who has been her devoted companion and attendant through the days of her illness, and former United States Senator William Alden Smith, of Grand Rapids, Michigan, who arrived a few hours before his mother passed from this world. Mrs. Smith also leaves two grandsons, George Louis Campau and Wm. Alden Smith, Jr., and a great grandson and great-granddaughter, William Alden, the third, and Marie Smith, all of whom reside in Grand Rapids.

Out-of-town People
The out-of-town people present yesterday included Mr. and Mrs. William T. Brownridge, Mrs. Charles O. Butler, Mrs. Hannah Beckwith, Mrs. A. Ed. Robinson, Dr. and Mrs. Elton Lang, all of Los Angeles.

A loving face has left us,
A quiet voice is still;
The little hands are folded,
No more to do her will.

We will miss her daily presence,
The kindly loving deeds,
The little words of comfort
She gave our daily needs.

Dearest mother, thou art gone
And left us here alone,
To travel thro' life's journey
Till our day is done.

JUMPING FROM BURNING AUTO WOMAN SAVES SE

ANAHEIM, Sept. 24.—By wonderful presence of mind in jumping from her car, Mrs. H. D. Polhemus saved herself from a shocking death yesterday near the corner of Olive street and East Broadway. Mrs. Polhemus had left her little girl for the afternoon kindergarten session and was driving away when the car she was driving caught fire from a short circuit from the battery. The blaze shot up beside where Mrs. Polhemus was seated driving. By instantly jumping from the car she saved her skirts from catching on fire. Mrs. Polhemus' mother was in the rear seat and likewise made a hasty get-away.

The affair happened just as the school bell was ringing for the opening of the afternoon session, and hundreds of children and citizens and the fire department were soon on the scene. The fire was soon under control with but little damage being done to the car, which had to be towed to a repair shop.

ADVERTISING IN NEWSPAPERS IS NOW FAVORED

Manufacturers Are Increasing
Appropriations For Direct
Dealer Helps

The high cost of living seems to be sharpening the wits of manufacturers who sell to furniture dealers because they are paying much more attention to local problems of the dealers than they used to, according to Mr. Chandler, furniture dealer.

"There seems to be a new era coming for the dealer," said Mr. Chandler today when discussing the problems of the merchants during these days of high prices. "In the old times the manufacturers were willing to sell us goods on long time terms. Then the time was shortened and for a long period the manufacturers in general seemed to think that the dealer should assume all problems of getting the consumer to buy goods. National advertising then became the fashion and during recent years manufacturers have gone mad on using popular magazines for presenting their wares to the people of the nation."

"With the high cost of advertising or something there seems to be a changing sentiment on the part of manufacturers. True, the magazine advertising is still predominating but I notice in our line that manufacturers are shifting a bit and I will prophecy that in a short time the manufacturers will decrease their magazine advertising space, increase local newspaper space and spend more time and money in directly aiding the local dealer."

"For instance, the Lloyd Manufacturing Company of Menominee, Mich., makers of the only loom woven baby carriage in the world, seem to be leading the way for direct help to the dealer rather than magazine advertising. Mr. Lloyd, president of the above firm, is an inventor of great repute. He is the man who recently refused $1,000,000 for his inventions of a new method for producing reed or fiber goods and a machine for weaving the fabric. Instead he organized a million-dollar company to make use of his own inventions. Now, he has a line of baby carriages which would lend itself to the usual magazine advertising campaign but instead he is using his efforts in direct aid for the dealer."

"His first stunt will be to send a woman to our store to educate our clerks on selling arguments for the Lloyd loom woven baby carriage. This is a direct aid to our clerks and it won't be long before every manufacturer will be doing the same. Soon our clerks will be educated on the selling features of all the articles we sell and that means much to us, to them and to the public. The latter will appreciate it because all persons like to have intelligent sales-people wait upon them."

"The newspapers are going to be the ones to benefit by this change of sentiment," said Mr. Chandler. "It is going to make local dealers throughout the nation realize the value of showing their wares and there is no better way than through the local newspaper."

EIGHTY-EIGHT PUPILS ENROLLED AT IRVINE

IRVINE, Sept. 24.—School opened on Sept. 15 with eighty-eight pupils enrolled. The attendance is smaller than it was at the close of last year. A number of families have moved away from the ranch.

With Miss Davison as the new principal and with the continued co-operation of parents the school expects to accomplish many things this year.

The regular monthly meeting of the P. T. A. will be held in the school house on Tuesday, Sept. 30 at 3 o'clock. An urgent request is made that all members be present.

CALIFORNIA HOP CROP BRINGS 50 CTS. POUND

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 24.—Buyers in wet countries have contracted for fifty per cent of California's hop crop with the first shipments bringing 50 cents a pound.

Brewers throughout the United States are still buying hops, as they are needed as much in the manufacture of near-beers as in the production of beverages of higher alcoholic percentage.

The total hop crop of Sacramento valley will be 40,000 bales, or 8,000,000 pounds at a total valuation of $4,000,000. The rest of the state will produce 30,000 bales. More than 7000 persons are engaged in hop-picking in the Sacramento valley this year.

PRINCIPAL ROWS BOAT 3 MILES TO SCHOOL

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Dr. John F. Condon, principal of public school No. 12, the Bronx, has solved the transit problem on City Island, where trolley service has been discontinued by the Third avenue system.

In order to get to school he takes his two sons and daughter in his rowboat through Pelham Bay and across Long Island Sound, landing at the public dock in Westchester, a distance of three miles, which he makes in 23 minutes, despite the fact that he has been teaching in the public schools more than a quarter of a century. In the evening he returns the same way.

He figures that in this way he saves $2.70 per day, besides getting a lot of healthful exercise.

8 DEER BAGGED IN 2 DAYS BY 4 HUNTERS

W. F. Diers One of Party In Successful Hunt In Tehama County

Two deer apiece for four men, in two days' hunting, is the "bag" that fell to a quartette of hunters, two of whom were William F. Diers, manager of the William F. Lutz Company, and Frank Walker, who lives southwest of Bolsa. The deer were killed in Tehama county.

"If you want to hunt deer go into Tehama county," said Diers, who has just returned from his trip, today. "The first day I was out I saw seven bucks and seventeen does in one herd."

At Red Bluff, in Tehama county, Diers and Frank Walker joined the latter's brother, G. A. Walker, and Ralph Ross, partner of G. A., on a cattle ranch. Driving his Studebaker "Six" roadster, Diers made the entire 748 miles from Santa Ana to Red Bluff, on the coast road, in 33 hours, total time.

From Red Bluff the party motored a distance of fifty miles eastward. Leaving their machines, they secured horses and packed for an additional distance of ten miles, to a place called Mulligan Springs, where the hunt began. There is a difference in elevation of 6000 feet between Red Bluff and the springs, Diers states.

"When I got back down to Red Bluff, after making that 6000-foot descent in ten hours, I thought my nose never would stop bleeding," said Diers.

At Mulligan Springs the party needed to hunt only two days before each man had two bucks each. The first two animals to be killed were brought down while they were running across the trail in front of the party.

Prior to reaching Mulligan Springs the party tried to camp at a place called Cunard Meadows, but had to abandon the attempt, owing to the skittishness of the horses, who objected to a bear which had wallowed in a pool nearby. The Diers party tried to shoot the bear, but were unsuccessful, as the animal made its "getaway" before the hunters could "get a bead."

As a result of the splendid opportunities for deer hunting in Tehama county, as evidenced by the success of Diers and his party, several Santa Ana men are today planning on making automobile trips there, with a view to trying their luck at bringing down the wary buck.

AIRPLANE EMPLOYED AT CHILD'S FUNERAL

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 24.—What was said to have been the first funeral by airplane in the United States, took place when an aircraft with a speed of 100 miles an hour was used for the purpose of transporting a coffin in which there was the body of a six-year-old girl from Atlantic City to Pleasantville for interment. The name of the child was withheld.

The demonstration was witnessed by 100 delegates attending the convention of the New Jersey Funeral Directors' Association.

GOAT ISLAND GOBS TO HAVE STRONG ELEVEN

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—The little island in the middle of the San Francisco bay, half way between this city and Oakland, is going to cause disturbances in the football world this season, although yet far from real form.

Goat Island promises to be the home of the goats of many grid teams this year. So far the Goat Island aggregation is a dark horse. Under the leadership of Lieutenant Francis Kutz the gobs are going to it hammer and tongs to get in condition for future pigskin battles, following the unholy defeat at the hands of the Olympic Club. The beating is not going to discourage them, Lieut. Kutz says. He also wishes it known that the navy is still open for grid prospects.

MARINES AT VALLEJO WON'T PLAY FOOTBALL

VALLEJO, Cal., Sept. 24.—There'll be no marine football team for the 1919-20 season.

Demobilization has wrecked the football team that once represented the West on the gridiron of the United States.

The barracks on Mare Island has decided that whereas there is no possibility of a first-class, go-get-'em organization, they do not want a team. No mediocre pigskin pushers can represent the marines, it is declared.

Talk of the organization of a team this year has died a natural death.

GLEASON GARDEN STRONGER THAN CINCINNATI

Each Team However Has High Class Pair of Fielders For Series

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Gleason has a better trio parading his gardens than Moran can produce.

The outer defense of the White Sox doesn't rank with the greatest of the game, nor has it the smashing attack of the Tiger outfielders. But in Jackson, Felsch, Liebold and John Collins the American leaguers have a more formidable array of talent than Rousch, Neale, Magee and Duncan.

As in the case of their infield, where they have a pair that fairly shouts its class, both the Reds and White Sox have in the gardens a bulwark of strength in Rousch and Jackson. This pair embodies almost the maximum of smashing power with the bat, while in Rousch and Felsch there is a pair that is outclassed only by the great Tris Speaker in the range of operations.

The most glaring weakness of Moran's club is in left field. It has bothered the great Red leader all season. In the last month the problem seemed solved with the arrival of Pat Duncan from the Southern League. His work has been close to sensational. But it is not sure that Moran will try a green youngster in the big series.

A smashing hitter, the league's leading batter and a fielder who covers acres of ground, Eddie Rousch outclasses Happy Felsch in center field. He has a fifty point advantage over the White Sox star in batting, has scored more runs, poled out more hits and is faster on the bases.

The afternoon sun which floods the right field of the Cincinnati yard will drive Joe Jackson to left field for the series. Compared to Sherwood Magee he towers in strength over the protector of the Red left garden. Jackson is having one of his best years, batting around 3.48, while Magee's stick work amounts to .228.

Moran has been resting the veteran for several weeks and he may come back to participate in his first world's series with a new lease on life. Duncan has not only plugged up the hole admirably, but he has been somewhat sensational in his work. In 24 games he has batted .246 and proved himself reliable in pinches.

"Nemo" Leibold and "Sano" Collins both get the call over "Greasy" Neale. Bating only .243, Neale falls behind both "Nemo" and Collins who have made their sticks work for .298 and .258, respectively.

The quartet of Reds have stolen 52 bases against 45 for their opponents. In hitting the American leaguers have a unit average of .295, the Reds .261; the White Sox have scored 235 runs, the Reds 143, the Sox fielders have knocked out 462 hits, the Reds 325.

Pat Moran Real "Miracle Man" in Winning Pennant

CINCINNATI, Sept. 24.—Pat Moran, boss of the Reds, who gave Cincinnati her first national league champion team, is being called the "Miracle Man." He took a team that was rated early in the season as lucky, to land in the first division and copped a championship with it.

But the main reason advanced in crowning him with "wonder titles" is the fact that he brought about his miraculous feat with a team of cast-offs. He assembled a club from material discarded by other teams and moulded it into a consistent winner. He took a corps of pitchers who had been found wanting by other managers and developed the best staff of hurlers in the league.

Jake Daubert (first baseman) is 34 years old. He was born in Shamokin, Pa. He started his career in 1906 with the Kane semi-pros and was bought by Cleveland in 1908. He was then farmed to Nashville. In 1919 he was transferred to Toledo and was bought by Brooklyn in 1910, playing there until this spring. He has batted around .290 in fourteen seasons.

Morris Rath (second baseman) was given the test in the American League with the White Sox, but he failed to deliver the goods and went back through the minors to Salt Lake City where he was secured last year by the Reds.

Kopf, Shortstop.
William Lawrence Kopf (short stop) is 28. He was born in Bristol, Conn. In 1912, as captain of the Fordham college nine, he drew the attention of major league scouts. But he dabbled around for awhile in the New England league under the name of Brady. He was signed by Toledo and sent up to Cleveland. The Athletics got him on waivers. His stick work was too light and he was released to Baltimore. The Reds then nabbed him when Herzog left. His work this year has been high class.

In point of service, Henry Knight Groh (third baseman) is one of the veterans of the team. He was born in Rochester, N. Y., 30 years ago. He started out with Oshkosh in 1908 and was sold to Decatur in 1912. The Giants bought him later in the season and then let him go to Buffalo. He was recalled to the Reds in 1913 and was released to the Reds. He bats around .273 and is the best third baseman in the league.

Ivy B. Wingo (catcher) was born 29 years ago in Norcross, Ga. He jumped into the game in 1909 with Greenville in the Carolina Association. He was sold to St. Louis in 1911 and was traded to the Reds in 1915 for Gonzalez and Bescher.

MANY PROBLEMS OF CITIES BE CONSIDERED

Statement of Convention Is Made by League of Municipalities Secretary

Many important questions are to be considered at the annual convention of the League of California Municipalities at Riverside, October 20 to 24. With the convention close at hand, the attendance at Orange County will probably be greater than at any other convention since the league was here at the dedication of the city hall.

W. J. Locke, secretary of the league, outlines the plans for the convention as follows: The twenty-first annual convention of the League of California Municipalities will be held at Riverside, Cal., October 20 to 24, 1919.

As a result of the war and the adoption of prohibition several big problems have been presented to the cities and towns since the last meeting held at Santa Rosa, two years ago, and for that reason the approaching convention is of more than usual importance and significance. Not the least of these problems has resulted from the high cost of living, in other words, "war prices," a condition which will undoubtedly continue for several years. As a matter of fact, it is generally conceded that prices will never go back to where they were before the war. This has brought about a serious situation in the administration of municipal government.

Practically all of our cities and towns have a limited tax rate and, although the cost of labor and material has been going steadily skyward for the past two years, the tax rate has remained stationary.

Besides this, many of our municipalities have lost the revenue heretofore received from saloon licenses which, in many cases, constituted a large part of their annual income and revenue.

Under these circumstances, the problem of administering the government of a city, with reduced receipts and increased expenses, is one that is sure to receive a great deal of serious consideration at the Riverside convention.

One of the notable effects of high prices was made manifest by the public utility companies, which lost no time in appealing to the railroad commission for increased rates, surcharge and other things.

Public utility companies are forever boasting of their superior efficiency and economy, and they never lose an opportunity to denounce municipal ownership as a "fraud, a delusion and a snare," nevertheless it is a significant and interesting fact that not one municipally-owned plant in the state was compelled to raise its rates or put on a surcharge.

"Municipal ownership of public utilities" will be one of the important subjects discussed before the next convention, and we will have the managers of some of our most successful water and light plants as the leading speakers. The almost-universal success of municipal ownership, wherever it has been tried, is conclusive evidence of its possibilities toward effecting a reduction in the cost of municipal government. By way of illustration, it is interesting to note that last year the city of Alameda not only maintained the lowest lighting rates around the bay, but also turned over $50,000 profit into the general fund, beside lighting all the streets of the city with its electrolux system. Is league. He was sold the same year to Birmingham in the Southern League. He went to the Yankees in 1907 and was released without trial to Williamsport in the Tri-State league. St. Louis drafted him in 1908 and sold him to the Giants in 1916 for a reported price of $10,000. He failed to set the league afire when he threatened to quit if he couldn't land with a club closer to his home, McGraw sent him to Cincinnati.

Walter Reuther (pitcher) is 28. He started in 1913 with St. Ignace College in San Francisco. The Pirates signed him and he stayed with them a month before being sent to Los Angeles. From there he was traded to Sacramento and ended up with the semi-pros in Frisco. In 1914 he was signed by Vancouver in the North-West League and from there he went to Salt Lake City in 1915. Spokane signed him in 1916 and then he went to the Cubs. Cincinnati took him when he failed in Chicago and was about to turn him down. He was traded to Chattanooga, but released to go. He went in the army and returned to the Reds this year and became the best southpaw of the league.

H. F. Sallee, Pitcher.
Harry F. Sallee (pitcher) is 34. He was born in Higginsport, O. He became a professional in 1905 when he joined Meridian in the Cotton States there any reason why the other cities and towns of the state may not do likewise?

The subject of street lighting brings to mind the fact that many of our cities and towns are undoubtedly wasting considerable money through the use of antiquated apparatus or unscientific methods. This belief is based on the recent experience of one of our northern cities, which, by installing up-to-date lamps and fixing their location at the points of great efficiency, was enabled to reduce its lighting bill from $300 to less than $100 per month, and at the same time secure more and better light. Undoubtedly, many other cities and towns throughout the state could effect a similar saving, and in view of the fact that the cost of street lighting constitutes one of the largest expenditures required in city government, it is a matter worthy of careful investigation.

Raising Revenue

One of the means suggested for raising more revenue, which seems to have met with general approval, is the imposition of heavier business licenses. The force of this suggestion is based on the assumption that the mercantile houses and all lines of legitimate business will derive considerable financial benefit from prohibition of the liquor traffic. It is universally conceded that a large part of the money which was formerly spent for "booze" will henceforth find its way into the coffers of grocers, clothiers, soft drink parlors and places of amusement. For this reason, the proposition to levy heavier license taxes on business of this character would appear to be just and reasonable. It will undoubtedly be one of the most important topics discussed at the Riverside meeting.

Another suggestion to be taken up at the next convention, and one which has a direct bearing on the question of revenue, is the proposition to raise the assessed value of property, both real and personal, for taxation purposes.

The law requires that property be assessed at its "full cash value" and the assessors have interpreted this expression to mean about 50 per cent of the market value. However, there is no reason, legally or otherwise, why all property should not be assessed at its actual market value, and in some of our cities this plan has recently been adopted.

Another thing which should be borne in mind in making assessments is the fact that all kinds of personal property, based on its present cost, has increased in value during the past two years between 50 and 100 per cent. Notwithstanding this fact, it is safe to say that in many cases the stocks of merchandise are being assessed on the old pre-war basis.

During the past several years the demand has grown more insistent that cities be allowed to do their own street work. Attempts to amend the street laws so as to permit this to be done, have so far resulted in failure, but it is quite probable that an organized effort on the part of the municipalities would result in the securing of the necessary amendments to our present laws.

It would not be advisable perhaps for the small cities and towns to go into the paving business or even attempt to do such work as would necessitate the purchase of extensive machinery.

But in such cases as the construction of cement sidewalks and curbs, plain or oiled macadam and various kinds of repair work, there is no reason why the same could not be done by the city itself at less cost than is now being charged by the contractors. The municipalities have made an unqualified success in conducting their own light and water plants. Is there any reason why they would not be equally successful in doing their own street work? Let us talk it over at Riverside.

20 Machines, With Band, Visit
County Points In Interest of Products Show

Twenty automobiles, carrying appropriate banners and loaded with seventy-five Huntington Beach boosters, are today engaged in a tour of Orange county points in the interest of the Orange County Fair, to be held at Huntington Beach October 2-3-4. The Huntington Beach boys' band is along to enliven the proceedings with the peppy kind of music.

The start was made from the beach town at 9 o'clock this morning, and their morning route was through Westminster, Garden Grove, Brea Park, Fullerton, La Habra, Brea, Olin-da, Yorba and Placentia. The party reached Anaheim about 1 o'clock, remaining for lunch until 2. Then the afternoon trip was started, the route lying through Olive, Orange, El Modena, Tustin, Santa Ana, Delhi, Newport, Balboa, Harper, Fairview, Greenville, and Talbert.

The party was scheduled to reach Santa Ana at 4 o'clock, Balboa at 5 and home sometime after 6.

FILES SUIT FOR
$5000 ALLEGED
DUE ON NOTE

W. H. Parr Plaintiff In Action
Brought In Superior Court

With Eden & Koepsel as his attorneys, W. H. Parr today filed an action in the Superior court against St. V. and Edith E. Hughey, and Ada and "John Doe" Cuthbert, to recover on a promissory note, the principal of which, $500, it is alleged, is remaining unpaid.

Hughey and his wife, according to the complaint, gave Parr their note for $500 on September 22, 1914. The interest on the note, it is alleged, has not been paid since March 22 of this year.

The Cuthberts are alleged to claim an interest in certain property which is asserted to have been mortgaged to secure the note. This alleged claim, according to the plaintiff, is consequent and subject to the lien of the mortgage which Parr says he holds. Parr asks judgment of $500 with interest at 7 per cent since March 22, together with $50 attorneys' fees.

JUDGE WEST LEAVES
TOMORROW FOR HUNT

Determined to bring back at least two deer apiece, a party headed by Superior Judge Z. B. West, is today making final preparations for departure by automobile tomorrow to Camp Wishon, near Porterville. Those who will go with Judge West are Lester Slaback, court reporter; George Woodruff, of the firm of Shoemaker and Woodruff, attorneys, of Los Angeles, and Dr. J. C. Murrin, of Santa Ana. It is said that as a result of the coming hunting trip members of the Orange County Bar Association are having visions of a banquet, with venison steak as the "piece de resistance."

DISMISSAL ENTERED IN SUIT ON NOTE

Dismissal was entered today by G. H. Scott, attorney for the plaintiffs, in the case of Carrie H. and Jessie Runsey against A. J. Senger, W. W. Stewart, A. R. and Roena C. Moomaw, and Elizabeth Woerz. In the complaint, which involved a promissory note and a mortgage, judgment for $5000 was asked.

PERSONALS

Ernie Johnson, shortstop for the Salt Lake team now playing in Los Angeles, visited his family here last night. Mrs. Johnson is a sister of Mrs. John Lutz of this city and has been at her home for five weeks. Johnson is one of the professional baseball players who pass their winters at Laguna and he is looking forward to the annual return to Laguna.

Russell Adkinson has gone to Templeton, where he will have the management of a large ranch property which an eastern syndicate is developing there. Victor Walker accompanied him there Sunday and returned last evening.

Miss Ruth Carmichael, of El Centro, whose father was formerly Western Union manager here, arrived yesterday for a few days' visit with Miss Alice Strong. She was a guest at the plunge party given yesterday by the big sisters at Huntington Beach after school.

Dr. and Mrs. H. N. Casebeer, Teddy Brown and Will Henderson of San Diego are spending a few days here. They may decide to make their home here.

Dr. and Mrs. Drake of Buffalo, who arrived here ten days ago, have purchased a home on the corner of Pine and Main streets.

H. E. Menefee of Clarendon, Texas, is visiting for two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Temple and sister, Miss Laura Menefee, of 1605 West First street.

Mrs. Robert Shafer and son, Burr, left Monday for Modjeska's, where they will remain for a short vacation.

Miss Erie Littlepage, of the coast and suit department at Leipsic's, is spending this week in Venice.

A. E. Bale, secretary and treasurer of the Sewell Paint & Glass Company of Kansas City, Mo., was a visitor yesterday at the home of F. C. Rowland at 810 McClay street, an old-time friend. Mr. Bale, his wife, and young son are visiting Mr. Bale's mother in Pasadena.

A. R. Stedman, recently employed at Taylor's cannery, has accepted a position as accountant for a Fresno raisin packing company at Selma, where his family will soon join him.

Mrs. W. E. Greedy was among Santa Anans in Los Angeles today.

Mrs. A. J. Lawton visited in Los Angeles today with San Diego friends. She will also meet Mrs. Abbie Scott Baker, representative of a proposed National Woman's party.

Miss Ava Wells spent today in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Lizzie Brown has returned from Los Angeles where she has spent the past month with her daughter, Mrs. Harris.

E. B. Collier made a business trip to Los Angeles today.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Huff returned Monday from a two months' trip through the Yellowstone Park, Eastern Ohio, Indiana and Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Blauer enjoyed a pleasant trip over the past week-end, stopping to visit the H. McPhee family at Santa Paula and paying a visit to Santa Barbara. They returned Monday.

Asks for Letter In Estate of Man
Killed in Argonne

A petition for letters of administration of the estate of Ernest Kellogg, who was killed in the Argonne Forest, was filed through Attorney Charles D. Swanner for Alma J., and J. E. Kellogg, guardians of Evelyn Kellogg, 9, daughter of Ernest.

The property, according to the petition on file today, consists of a house and lot on East First street, west of Lacy, Santa Ana. The guardians of Kellogg's daughter were appointed pursuant to an agreement with Nellie Kellogg, the child's mother.

Kellogg left Santa Ana with Company L. At the time of his death, he was assigned to the 307th Infantry, of which organization Nat Rochester, who was also killed in the Argonne, was a member.

ORANGE QUIET TITLE
SUIT PLACED ON FILE

Attorney L. F. Coburn of Orange has brought suit to quiet title for Cyrus D. Newman against Elise C. Davis and her husband. The property involved, according to the complaint on file today, consists of 2.30 acres near the corner of Chapman avenue and Batavia street, Orange. In his complaint Newman says that he has been the owner of the property for twenty years and that the defendants claim an interest in it adverse to him.

TEACHERS' VACANCIES ARE STILL UNFILLED

County Superintendent of Schools Mitchell today is negotiating with Los Angeles county teachers with a view to filling teachers' vacancies at Harper, San Juan Capistrano and Yorba Linda. Some little difficulty is being experienced in securing teachers, owing to the fact that all Orange county teachers who desired to teach have been given positions, while practically all the more experienced teachers in Los Angeles county have already secured positions, according to Superintendent Mitchell.

STATE CONTROLLER
MAY SPEAK IN S. A.

State Tax Appraiser John N. Anderson is planning to attend the state convention of tax appraisers, to be held at Los Angeles for three days, beginning October 6. County Assessor James Sleeper will also attend the meeting. Efforts are being made today to have State Controller John S. Chambers, who will speak at the convention, come to Santa Ana during the middle of October and address a meeting of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association. It is expected that Secretary Metzgar of the Chamber of Commerce, who is negotiating with Chambers, will know definitely tomorrow whether or not the state controller will be able to come to Santa Ana.

U. P. Church Finishes Reconstruction of Quarters
For Clubs

In order that it may carry on more effectively an excellent work that it has been doing with boys' clubs, the United Presbyterian Church has rearranged its basement and has provided excellent quarters for the clubs. Last night a church social attended by about 200 people interested in the church marked the formal opening of the rooms.

An entrance separate from the church entrance has been made on Bush street. This entrance leads into the parlor and reading room, which are to be fittingly equipped. The basement has been arranged for gymnasium purposes, so that the boys can play basketball and other games there. A room with shower baths and lockers has been provided. The effort is to make the place attractive and comfortable for the boys, and the effort has been successful.

During the coming winter no less than four boys' clubs, including a Boy Scout troop, are to meet in these rooms each week.

Last evening the rooms were tastefully decorated with pennants, sunflowers and cattails. The evening's fun included a penny march and an amusing field day program. The musical program consisted of a piano duet by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Warne, a vocal solo by Walter Verier and a violin solo by Jack Langley. Archie Raitt was chairman of the social committee.

This affair was one of the events arranged for the church's reconstruction week. Tomorrow evening a missionary pageant is to be held.

Superintendent Tehaney Advises How Headlight Law
May Be Complied With

Many Ford owners are laboring under the impression that they have to equip their machines with generator and storage battery or storage battery only in order to comply with the light regulations of the new motor vehicle law. This is not the case.

City Marshal Jernigan has received direct instructions from Superintendent Tehaney on this point and they are herewith reproduced for the benefit of the owners of these "Packards," as follows:

Ford headlights, to comply with the legislative intent regarding the elimination of dangerous glare must use either a home-made lens, the standard rib glass preferably, or a manufactured device that has been approved. The maximum candlepower permissible and the only candlepower bulb obtainable on the market is the 21 vacuum or 27 gas filled bulb, nine volt type. If the home-made device, standard rib, is used, the headlights must be tilted four feet in one hundred feet and the lens rotated clockwise to the right, each lens twenty degrees, which means a one and one-half inch turn to the right. It makes no difference whether the ribs are inside or out. The standard rib glass has fifteen to twenty ribs to the inch and is about one-eighth of an inch thick.

If a certified manufactured device is used on a Ford car, see to it that a 21-vacuum or a 27-gas filled lamp is permissible behind such lens, as there are many certified devices on our approved list that are not permitted with a candlepower rating this high. Ford headlights so equipped will be considered as coming within the headlight law.

It is not the attitude of the Motor Vehicle Department to require all Ford owners to equip their cars with batteries to comply with all of the requirements of the law. It will be sufficient for the present to eliminate the dangerous glare and this can be done by equipping Fords as outlined above.

Just arrived—our glace fruit, fresh from the factory. Dragon.

GOING TO SEND WOODROUGH TO STATE BUREAU GATHERING

Well Known Farmer to Represent This County at Important Meeting

Orange County Farm Bureau will send H. B. Woodrough of Harper to the Berkeley convention of Farm Bureau representatives, which meets October 22-24 to complete the organization of the State Federation of Farm Bureaus. This was decided by unanimous action of the board of directors at the September meeting last Friday.

In Woodrough the bureau has a man of progressive, up-to-date ideas, a man who has the welfare of the farmer at heart, being a farmer himself, and a man who has supported the farm bureau movement in the county from its very beginning.

Orange county, like most other counties, will have its issues to lay before the State Federation—some of only local interest, others in common with the neighboring counties. In its representative, the county has a man who can present it in a logical and forceful manner.

Best To Wait Till Leaves Are Gone Before Deciduous Tree Is Given Its Pruning

THE deciduous tree, during the period of growth up to the time the fruit is removed, is manufacturing plant food through its leaves for growth and to develop the fruit. After the fruit is picked the leaves continue to elaborate plant food which is stored in the tree as the sap goes down in the fall for next year's growth. Pruning at this time of the year reduces the number of leaves and therefore, the amount of plant food which can be elaborated and stored for next season. For this reason it is recommended that pruning be deferred until the leaves start to drop.

As stated in a Farm Bureau section of the Register last spring, the University of California has worked out a long method of pruning which produces great deal better results than has the old standard method of pruning. These benefits come not only in an increased number of fruits per tree, but in a more vigorous, stronger and healthier tree and one in which the cost of pruning and picking is reduced to about one-half.

In an earlier issue we outlined a method of pruning young trees according to this system.

The following are the essential points to be considered in pruning bearing trees.

Once the scaffold branches are established, pruning should consist mainly of thinning but rather than cutting back.

Species that fruit on long whips of new growth (like the peach) should be pruned more severely, to stimulate new growth. Species that fruit on long whips of new growth, (like the peach) should be pruned more severely, to stimulate new growth, species that fruit on short spurs, like the apple, should be pruned lightly, to maintain short spur development. To reduce tall, main limbs cut to outward growing side limbs, not to stubs.

Varieties which set fruit too profusely should have fruiting area reduced by severe pruning out. Varieties which set fruit sparingly should be pruned lightly, leaving fruiting wood and reducing non-fruitful parts. Severe heading back is undesirable. It results in a surplus of long vegetative suckers at the point of heading back. These continue length growth late, rob and shade out fruiting parts below, oppose storage of plant food reserves, evaporate too much water from their succulent tissue and result in lower concentration of sap and tissue easily injured by cold or drought.

Light thinning, as opposed to heading back, favors equal length growth of twigs from base of tree to top; twigs cease length growth early, storage of plant food reserves is fostered, leaves and twigs become firm and utilized; but little water is evaporated; trees are resistant to cold and drought, due to concentration of sap and firm texture of tissues.

In removing limbs, cut loose, so as to leave no stub, and paint large wounds with asphaltum or other good wound paint.

Summer pruning should be confined to shaping the young tree, removing dead, broken or diseased parts or water sprouts and succulent, late-growing tissue, to save water and encourage storage of plant food reserves. In summer pruning, avoid the removal of firm tissue, which has ceased length growth, which has rich, dark green, firm leaves, and which is storing rather than wasting water and plant food reserves.

HIGH SCHOOL IS TO SEND BOYS TO MEETING AT DAVIS

Club Leaders to Be Given Trip—Fullerton Getting Interested, Too

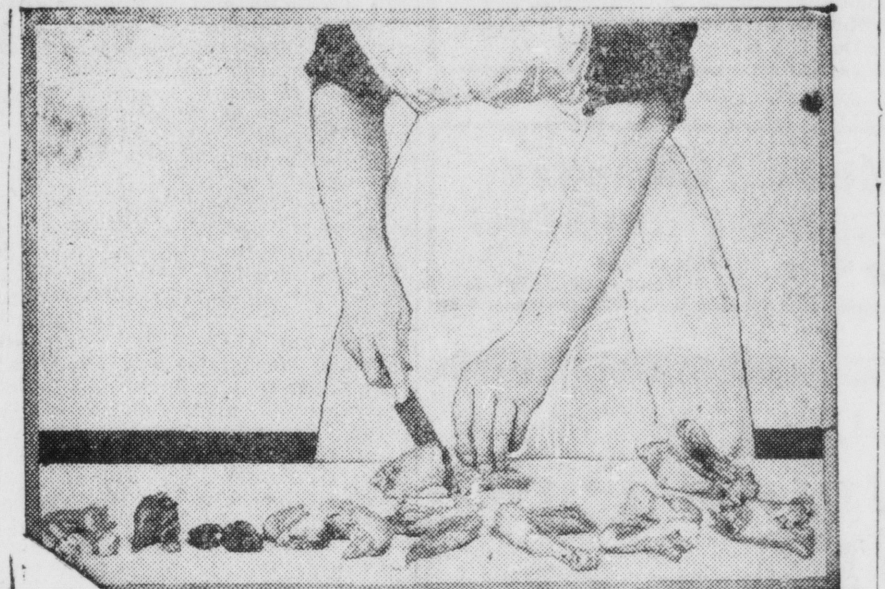

Farm Advisor Wahlberg reports that two Orange county boys, both from the Huntington Beach high school, where Agricultural Club work was carried on last year, will be sent to the University Farm at Davis as a reward for their diligent application and results in the club contest.

This will be the fifth convention of Agricultural Club members of California. It meets on October 16, 17 and 18. Those who have the best records in each club will be eligible to attend. The first prize winner of each grammar school agricultural club will also be eligible.

Fullerton high school will take up club work this year under the supervision of Prof. J. M. Alcorn, who conducted the work at Huntington Beach last year. Prof. White is his successor at Huntington Beach.

The farm bureau would like to see more boys' and girls' clubs started in the county and will co-operate with any high school, grammar school or farm center that desires to promote agricultural club work.

Uncle Sam Gives Pointers On How To Cut Chicken For Cooking and Canning

Results Like This Obtain Where An Experienced Housewife Cuts Up A Chicken.

Cleaning chickens and washing clothes have long been nightmare like tasks on the housewife's calendar. With that automatic laundry man, the mechanical or electric washing machine, Dame Genius has simplified one of these problems, and now the U. S. Department of Agriculture is "over the top" with a scheme which irons the wrinkles out of the problem of preparing fowls for the table. Drawing and cutting up a chicken for cooking or canning is as much an art as the proper interpretation of a Mendelssohn symphony, but study and practice of the following pointers will soon develop the novice into an expert. The operator can remove the entire digestive tract without smearing the meat in any way, and can pack the flesh and bones from the average mature fowl into a quart jar.

The first essential is to give the fowl no food for 24 hours before killing. The bird should be killed by sticking it through the roof of the mouth, and should be picked dry. After the feathers have been removed and the pin feathers drawn, the fowl should be cooled rapidly. When cool it should be singed and washed carefully with a brush.

Precautions in Butchering

Precautions to observe in butchering the chicken consist in removing the wings after cutting off the tips at the first joint, removing the feet, cutting at the knee joint; removing the legs at the hip or saddle joints and cutting through the connecting joints to separate the thigh from the leg. With a sharp knife sever the neck bone at the head. Care should be taken not to cut the windpipe or gullet. With the index finger, separate the windpipe and gullet from the neck and cut through the skin to the wing opening. The head should be left attached to the windpipe and these organs should be loosened from the neck down as far as the crop.

With a sharp pointed knife next cut around the shoulder blade, pulling it out of position and breaking it. Locate the white spots on the ribs and

WORKING TO GET EVERY FARMER ON LIST FOR DISTRICT

Center Votes to Take the Instructive Trip to Riverside Station

Buena Park Farm Center is about ready to file its petition for a drainage district. The center met on September 15 at the school hall with a large attendance for the first fall meeting. A. Nelson, the secretary of the Buena Park and Cypress Drainage committee, gave a report for that committee. Petitions are being circulated among the property owners, and if anyone should be overlooked by the committee it would be well for him to get in touch immediately with any member of the committee. Those on the committee are John Anderson, A. Nelson, Henry Gatzens, B. R. Shinn and C. L. Spraker. These petitions must be in by the evening of September 25 for presentation to the board of supervisors. No doubt everyone has signed or will sign, as the movement is recognized as essential to progress.

Dr. J. R. Schofield, the center's director, gave an interesting report on the work done at the directors' meeting at Santa Ana. This report is always worth the time spent by any member to come and hear even if he would not be interested in the topic for the evening otherwise.

Farm Advisor H. E. Wahlberg talked on "Cover Crops," certainly a very timely subject.

N. D. McDowell made a motion that the center accept the invitation for an excursion trip to Riverside Experiment Station. This motion carried but up to the present only four members have made it known to the president, Fred Bastady, that they intend to participate in this excursion. The date will be mentioned a little later. The four are N. D. McDowell, C. Cox, Dr. J. R. Schofield and Fred Bastady.

After the meeting had adjourned the matter of definitely deciding on the Buena Park Library site was taken up. Mrs. Meyers became the chairman for considering this matter, she being the president of the library board. After considerable discussion pro and con, the audience proceeded to vote on the two bids offered. Number 1 was in Mr. Simpson's subdivision on Grand avenue next to the storm water draw, the other bid, No. 2, Mr. Horn's lot on Grand avenue south of No. 1. After careful checking on the great register it was found that only 51 could vote. The result was 23 votes for bid No. 1, 21 votes for bid No. 2 and 7 votes to reject both bids.

"Come to our next meeting, it's worth the sacrifice," is word from this center.

No one was declared winner.

MANY COUNTIES MEN CHOSEN TO RATIFY PLAN FOR STATE ATTEND FARM CONFERENCE

The regular fall conference of farm advisors of California will be held at Berkeley on October 20 and 21. The state leader's office reports that twenty-one counties have ratified the constitution and by-laws of the proposed state federation which makes a conference of county representatives possible on October 22nd at Berkeley. The state-wide organization will be consummated at this meeting.

There are many problems which such an organization should take up in a large way which cannot be handled by as small a unit as the county bureau. There are other problems which the counties south of the Tehachepi will wish to take up through that portion of the association.

Larger participation in movements, even, is expected for a national meeting of farm bureaus at Chicago in November, is announced. This will give the farmers a powerful means of expression which they have so long lacked, and which has been an urgent need.

ADVISES GROWERS TO PLAN FOR SEED

The Lima Bean Bulletin, issued by the California Lima Bean Association, says:

For the benefit of the several hundred new members of the association, and to refresh the memory of any of the old members who may not recall clearly the association's plan of reserving and handling seed beans, we here briefly recite the rule adopted by the directors which has worked very satisfactorily the past two years.

First of all, every member under his contract is entitled to reserve at home, or in his own name in a warehouse, such quantities of beans from his own crop as he estimates he will require for planting the next ensuing season land owned or controlled by him. For the benefit of those members who may wish to secure seed beans from crops grown upon the land of some one of their neighbor grower members or from another district, the association will undertake to arrange to reserve and to exchange upon even net reclaimed weight basis lots that have been brought to the association's choice reclaimed shipping standard, without expense to the member making the exchange for seed purposes, other than any transportation charges or extra handling charges that may be involved.

In view of the fact that so many members will wish to secure seed from lots other than their own this season, all members who do not plan to reserve beans for seed from their own lots should immediately notify the secretary of their local association of this fact, giving him notice as to the quantity they wish reserved and if possible from what lots or from which district. The local secretaries are also asked to urge the members to give this information promptly and in turn to forward it to our office at the earliest possible date in order that we may arrange not to ship out but to hold in reserve the best lots for seed purposes. The local secretaries and our inspectors, also the warehousemen will, we are sure, assist us in this matter, which under existing conditions is of great importance.

FURNISH POLLEN TO PLUMS AND PRUNES

As a result of five years' investigations on the question of the pollination of plums and prunes the division of pomology of the University of California has determined that practically all of the Japanese plums now being grown commercially in California will not set satisfactorily crops unless another variety of the same species is planted near by. They are self-sterile with the exception of the Climax which has been found to be able to set fruit with its own pollen. No evidence of inter-sterility among this type of plums is said to have been found. Hence, it is stated, varieties which blossom at approximately the same time may safely be inter-planted for pollination purposes.

Among the European type of shipping plums, Tragedy, Clyman and Grand Duke are incapable of setting fruit with their own pollen. However, they cross-pollinate one another effectively, and can also be used with several other varieties of this species.

Without a question, it is declared, the French prune which predominates in every section in this state is self-fertile. The sugar is also self-fertile. On the other hand, the Imperial and Robe de Sergeant cannot set fruit with their own pollen. All four varieties of prunes effectively cross-pollinate one another when inter-planted.

Further details of the results obtained with seventeen leading varieties of plums and prunes are given in Bulletin 310 of the University of California Agricultural Experiment Station.

FOOD VALUE OF MILK IS GIVEN HIGH PRAISE

Statement of Farm Bureau Points Out Its Nourishing Qualities

Largely because milk is a liquid, many people have not considered it a necessary article in the diet, and have either reduced their purchases of this valuable food, or purchased it rather reluctantly.

However, when its real food value is known, it is looked upon as the most nourishing of all foods. It is a complete food, containing all the food essentials necessary for body activities; its protein is of exceptional quality, and the fat in milk contains a newly discovered substance, essential in the diet, called fat soluble A. This substance has been found to be indispensable to health, and no child can grow and develop without it.

Furthermore, this substance is valuable to the adult in promoting health and vigor.

This growth and health promoting element is deficient in the diet of one out of every three children, who are thereby caused to suffer in various ways; some children even develop sore eyes and rickets and other complicated disturbances when they do not receive sufficient amounts of this substance.

Fat Soluble A is found most abundantly in milk, butter, cheese and ice cream; the fat of the egg contains it, as also do the leafy portions of vegetables to some extent. Milk and dairy products, however, are the principal sources.

Dr. Sherman of Columbia University says that the average American diet should consist of at least twice as much milk, butter and cheese as at present.

Dr. McCollum of Johns Hopkins University, the foremost authority on nutrition, says that there are no substitutes for milk and dairy products as food; they are essential to the growth of the child and to the health of the adult.

If one but for a moment considered milk on the basis of its protein, fat, and sugar content, and overlooked its growth and health promoting substances and its ideal mineral matter, it would be found that milk is a cheap food even then, when compared with most other staple articles of diet.

For example, veal costs about twice as much as milk for the same food value; pork chops, ham and shoulder are more expensive than four per cent milk, while chicken at 27 cents a pound is more than fifty per cent more expensive, and broilers at 30 cents a pound are almost five times as expensive. Eggs at 48 cents a dozen are about two and one-half times as costly as four per cent milk.

Fresh fish, such as salmon, halibut and whitefish, cost about two and one-half times as much.

Of the fruits only those that are dried are as cheap as milk.

The same is generally true with respect to the vegetables, except potatoes. For instance, canned peas at 20 cents a pound are about three and one-half times as expensive as four per cent milk, or in other words, when they are 20 cents a pound it requires 2.58 cents worth of them to equal one quart of four per cent milk which is generally purchased for 15 cents.

All these figures show that milk is an economical and nourishing food even at 15 or 20 cents a quart. This fact, coupled with the fact that milk contains certain substances called vitamins, which are necessary for growth and health, and mineral matter of splendid quality, should make everybody realize keenly that milk should be used freely in every American home and in every human dietary.

WAHLBERG TO JUDGE FAIR FRUIT DISPLAY

The San Diego County Farm Bureau is staging a county fair that will do the county proud. A fair has not been held there for several years. This year the farm bureau took the responsibility of exhibiting the agricultural products of the county. Extensive fruit and stock exhibits have been procured and much competition aroused among the various farm centers.

Farm Advisor Wahlberg will act as one of the judges on fruit displays. H. S. Scribner of Los Angeles, will be one of the stock judges.

SOME EGG SUGGESTIONS

Uniform products command the best prices. Pure-bred fowls produce uniform products.

Begin marketing the chickens as soon as they weigh one pound or attain a marketable weight.

Ship or deliver eggs at least twice or three times weekly.

Small or dirty eggs should be used at home.

Infertile eggs will withstand marketing conditions much better than fertile eggs.

PRIZES OFFERED CHILDREN WHO HAVE STOCK

Girls and Boys Can Enter Competition Under the Auspices of State

The Junior live stock feeding contest at the California International Livestock Show to be held in the California building at the Panama-Pacific Exposition grounds, San Francisco, November 1 to 8, is providing a splendid opportunity for boys and girls 10 to 19 years old to win some attractive prizes.

Special classes are provided in the Junior feeding contest, but the young folks will not be confined to this class alone, as they can show in the open classes, and many times a youngster raising an animal or two puts a little more fat on them than farmers and breeders with many animals to care for.

In checking over the premium list just issued by Prof. Gordon H. True, who has been loaned by the University of California to manage the San Francisco show, it is found that it is possible for a boy or girl to win as high as $250 on a fat steer, providing it is first in class and grand champion each time shown, which would include the carcass contest. This would be the total of high prizes for steers of Hereford or Angus breeding, while $205 would be the top for Shorthorns.

In the swine classes it would be possible to win $90 on a pen of three barrows, not counting a possible additional $25 for the best carcass should one of the barrows win in this class. On a single barrow, making a clean sweep of all high awards, $80 could be won, and $105 should the barrow be a Berkshire.

While it is perhaps too late this year for many young feeders to have animals in shape for this show, it would be well for them to secure a premium list which provides the rules for next year's show and try to win some of those coveted prizes. Prof. True will mail a catalogue upon request, addressing him at 417 Market street, San Francisco.

The California International promises to be the largest and best display of live stock and poultry ever assembled in the West.

A special class for grammar school children raising rabbits, chickens and pigeons, is provided for in the premium list of the California International Live Stock Show. In each class of three rabbits, three chickens and three pigeons, three prizes of $5, $3 and $2 are offered. The only requirement made is that the exhibit be raised and cared for by the juvenile exhibitor. It will also be possible to enter the same animals or birds in the classes with the regular breeders.

cut along them through the ribs. Also cut the back to and around the vent and loosen it. Leaving the head at tached, loosen the windpipe, gullet and crop, and remove the digestive tract from the bird. Then remove the lungs and kidneys with the point of the knife and cut off the neck close to the body. Cut through the backbone at the joint just above the diaphragm and remove the oil sack. Then separate the breast from the backbone by cutting through on the white spots and breaking.

It is essential to cut in sharply at the point of the breast bone and to remove the wishbone with the meat. The fillet should also be cut from each side of the breastbone, while the bones of the breast should be bent in.

How to Can Chicken

In packing the fowl for canning purposes use a quart jar. Pack the saddle with a thigh inside; the breast bone with a thigh inside; the back bones and ribs with a leg inside. The leg end downward alongside the breast-bone; then the wings, the wishbone, the fillets, and the neck bone. Do not pack the giblets with the meat.

Fuller directions for the home canning of chicken, meats, soups, fruits and vegetables may be found in farmers' bulletins of the United States Department of Agriculture, which will be supplied free of charge to anyone requesting from the Division of Publications.

ARE TO EXHIBIT STOCK

The Animal Husbandry division of the University of California announces that it will make an exhibit of live stock at the Los Angeles show, October 18 to 29, the California International Show at San Francisco, November 1 to 8, and at the International at Chicago. Every animal in the show string was bred by the institution and in a number of cases, their dams were also produced by the University farm.

COLLEGE GIVES FALL FARMER COURSES

Department Announces Its Program For the Next Three Months

The College of Agriculture of the University of California will give its regular fall farmers' short courses at the University Farm, Davis, Yolo county, during the months of September, October, November and December.

These courses are given to enable farmers of mature years to acquire further knowledge of the principles and practices which are essential to successful agriculture.

There are no entry examinations, but applicants must be at least 18 years of age. A small fee is charged for this course, but the total expenses are unusually low.

Agriculture is conceded to be both an art and a science, therefore, to be most successful a farmer should be up in both of these phases of the work. The art consists of knowing the What, When and How to carry on the work, the Science of Knowing Why.

The short course will teach all of these. They will come in accordance with the following schedule:

September 16 to 25—Gas Tractor.

September 29 and November 7—General Agriculture (including animal husbandry, Poultry Husbandry, Dairy Manufacture).

November 10-22—Butter-making, Beekeeping.

December 1-12—Cheese-making.

December 13-20—Deciduous fruits. Anyone desiring further information will receive descriptive catalogues upon application to the farm advisor's office.

PLANS HEARING ON WOMEN IN FARM WORK

The Industrial Welfare Commission of the State of California has given notice that it will hold a public hearing in Parlor F, Hotel Alexandria, 219 West Fifth street, Los Angeles, at 10:30 a. m., on Monday, October 6th, for the purpose of considering and acting upon the following matters:

1. A minimum wage to be paid to women and minors employed in the textile industry, in agricultural occupations, in the bean-cleaning and sorting industry, in the nut-shelling and picking industry and in the beet-sugar industry of this state.

2. The maximum hours of work consistent with the health and welfare of women and minors employed in the textile industry, in agricultural occupations, in the bean-cleaning and sorting industry, in the nut-shelling and picking industry and in the beet-sugar industry of this state.

3. The standard conditions of labor demanded by the health and welfare of women and minors engaged in the textile industry, in agricultural occupations, in the bean-cleaning and sorting industry, in the nut-shelling and picking industry and in the beet-sugar industry of this state.

All persons interested are invited to attend the public hearing.

SMITH TO ADDRESS LA HABRA MEETING

Prof. Ralph E. Smith will address the members of the La Habra Farm Center at a field meeting to be held at Mr. Hibbs' grove, west of La Habra, on Ocean avenue, between La Mirada and Idaho streets.

Walnut blight and soil moisture will be discussed and field observations made.

The farm advisor will take up the subject of Cover Crops.

NUXATED IRON IS USED BY OVER 3,000,000 PEOPLE ANNUALLY TO HELP BUILD UP THEIR HEALTH STRENGTH AND ENDURANCE

Look around at the men and women you meet in a single day. One glance is enough to tell the ones with plenty of rich, red blood, strength and physical energy to back up their mental power and make them a success in whatever they undertake. Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, says that to help make strong, keen, red-blooded Americans there is nothing so valuable as organic iron—Nuxated Iron. It often increases the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, run-down people in two weeks' time. It is conservatively estimated that Nuxated Iron is now being used by over three million people annually, and it has been used and endorsed by such men as U. S. Commissioner of Immigration Hon. Anthony Caminetti, also United States Judge G. W. Atkinson, of the Court of Claims of Washington, and others. Nuxated Iron is dispensed by all good druggists everywhere.

HESSITATION OF BUSINESS IS NATURAL

Outlook Good For Sustained Volume of Trade For Balance of Year

Following is the monthly bulletin of the California National Bank for September, just off the press:

The Source of National Greatness

"The things which make a people great are not wars of destruction, but the quiet, orderly lives of the working men and women who are engaged in productive industry. It is industry which provides the sinews from which comes national power. A nation becomes great in proportion as its engineers, architects, preachers, teachers, business and professional men, and the great mass of honest, God-fearing men and women who do the work of the world, are inspired with an ideal, and are workers for the common good."

The business activity which spun its wheels in starting last April, slowed down with loudly squeaking breaks in August. Actuated by estimates of record crops and large European exports, it sped up to an enjoyable magnitude until the unrighteous grade of its new fuel was lowered through the substitution of harvest facts and Europe's financial situation actualities.

Our present view of business is not pessimistic. Hesitation now is only natural. It would be called seasonal in normal times. The outlook is good for a well sustained volume of trade the rest of the year, but it will be less stimulated by the excitement that has alternately prodded and petted it for the past four months.

As the wheat crop traveled to reality, it lost 200,000,000 bushels of its May estimated load, but at that is going to be delivered at a figure above the average. The corn yield has rounded out to a figure somewhat above the average.

Of 77 commodities reported by Bradstreet's, 7 advanced in price, 21 declined and 49 remained unchanged. Failures increased some over last month, but the present point registers way below that of a year ago. New building figures, from an area representing 40 per cent of the total population of the United States and 60 per cent of its industrial population, show that residential building, both started and projected, increased 300 per cent over a year ago, and factory building a little better than 100 per cent.

Cautious Buying

The present foreign trade situation is a signal to merchants and manufacturers to be cautious in buying commodities. In view of the fact that our present tremendous foreign trade is a development covering four or five years, business must have been more or less geared up to take care of it, and although what we export in manufactured goods represents but 10 per cent of the total manufacture, the diversion of even this small amount from export to domestic sale and consumption would sharply cut the prices of all of the same kind of manufactured goods, causing large losses to heavily stocked merchants. Manufactured goods will be the first to be cut from the export list because Europe is getting into shape to do her own manufacturing and will turn to buying raws instead.

From Business to Religion—Through every existing activity between these two classifications of human endeavor—the entire effort of individuals and groups of individuals seems to be to quarrel over wealth that has already been produced instead of making the individual and collective effort to produce more wealth. Some day we are going to see the unnecessary price we paid for our false knowledge of causes. Some day we will see how badly we need to bring our emotions into closer relation with our reason. Some day broadness, with an unprejudiced seeking after underlying facts and fundamentals, will make individual as well as national progress more painless.

How to Reduce Living Costs

The cost of living can be speedily reduced and its sting destroyed during the process if we will strike out of our consciousness that old and unworthy belief that prosperity and progress means getting more pay for less work, and this statement cannot antagonize whom it would help.

Let us consider some statistics. Let us picture them by lines and compare the courses that business and living costs and wages have traveled during the past few years. Let us make a comparison of the Federal Labor Bureau's index of retail food prices with the average weekly earnings of factory employees in the state of New York. This comparison shows that food prices now stand 86 per cent higher than they did in 1914, while weekly earnings average 77 per cent higher than they did at that same period. Now, from a glance it may be seen that the average factory employee's purchasing power is just about the same now as it was in 1914. On a closer examination it will be found that in December, 1918, (and this you will remember was when wage rates were lower than they are now, but full time employment more common) the average weekly earnings were 83 per cent above June 1914, which is still closer to the present high retail cost of food. Therefore, it is plain to be seen and safe to believe that if the production of useful things could be restored to its former rate the average wage earner would be compensated for the present prices, and that any price decline would increase his purchasing power above what it was in pre-war times.

More than Political

The facts indicate rather plainly that the influences which will produce lower living costs are more than mere campaign material for any political organization to use, and while popular appeal political propaganda dealing with living costs will be used clear up to the finish of the presidential election in 1920, yet, as forces political, they will prove to be molestations instead of panaceas and will fail to ex-

GREAT CAMPAIGN TO STOP TUBERCULOSIS

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The greatest campaign against tuberculosis in the history of the country, national in scope and to be carried out through 1500 affiliated state and local societies, was announced today by the National Tuberculosis Association.

The association is counseled and directed by such leading medical and public health authorities as Sir William Osler, Dr. David R. Lyman, Col. George E. Bushnell, Dr. Lawrence Brown, Dr. Alfred Mayer and Dr. Henry Barton Jacobs.

The success of the campaign will insure the saving of thousands of lives that otherwise would be claimed by this disease during the coming year, according to estimates based on past experience of the association, the officials said.

Last year tuberculosis caused the death of 150,000 persons in the country. Strain of military service upon men and the exertions of war work on women are already beginning to become apparent in the development of tuberculosis among persons in whom the bacilli had long lain dormant, it was said.

The loss to the United States in life and labor during the past year, it was estimated, was $500,000,000 from tuberculosis alone. Unless something is done this year it is believed, the loss of life and labor value will be greater.

It is estimated that not less than 1,000,000 persons and probably more than 1,200,000 have tuberculosis in this country at present.

NEW TYPE OF HOBOES GET RAILROAD FARES

LA CROSSE, Wis., Sept. 24.—D. C. Dewey, La Crosse Rescue Mission, is in authority on the hobo. But Mr. Dewey ran against a new kind of 'bo' when two women, traveling about the country with a bulldog, poll parrot and two cages of canary birds—to say nothing of three children—dropped into the mission.

The outfit came from Sparta, where the husband of one of the women was held on a charge of horse-stealing. They insisted that the community and world owed them a living, that they could not and would not work, and that they were bound for Minneapolis.

Dewey "passed the buck" after struggling with the problem for a day by buying the women and children tickets for Minneapolis.

ert any marked or healthy influence on the cost of living.

The more rational element of labor sees these facts as realities, and this is evidenced by the resolutions adopted by a committee of employees of the Midvale Steel & Ordnance Company at their meeting at Atlantic City recently. We are printing the full text of the resolutions, as they treat of a sane doctrine for labor—one through which all mankind may interpret Democracy as meaning that there must be surrender, compromise and service by everybody.

The text of the resolutions is as follows:

Whereas, the high cost of living needs to be abated by diligent, efficient, and conscientious labor, by thrift and by avoidance of waste and extravagance; and

Whereas, the price of commodities is regulated by the day's labor of a man, and the real unit of value or the unit of compensation is not a dollar, but the purchasing price of a dollar, and that the price of all things, meaning the average price of everything we use and consume, which is commonly referred to as the average price of commodities, is fixed, regulated, raised or lowered by the average compensation received for one hour's work by every man and every woman; and

Whereas, we believe the only sure remedy for the high cost of living is increased production and the stabilization of prices in conformity with wages now being paid; and

Whereas, we believe any workman who demands a greater proportionate return for his labor than his fellow workmen in other lines are getting, is as guilty of profiteering as a grocer who charges exorbitant prices for the necessities of life, and that increases in wages paid to certain classes of workers by the government or others will result in high prices being set by the profiteer for the necessities of living to all purchasers alike; it is, therefore

Wage Demands Uneconomic

Resolved, that the persistent and unceasing demand of workmen employed in all classes and kinds of industries for a shorter day's work and an increased wage in order to meet the present high cost of living is uneconomic and unwise and should not be encouraged.

Resolved further, that private monopolies should be controlled and profits restricted to a rate that shall be fair to the consumer.

Resolved further, that private monopolies of food and clothing be restricted and that all stores of hoarded supplies be uncovered and placed in the open market.

Resolved further, that copies of this resolution be forwarded to the President of the United States, to the senators in Congress from Pennsylvania and to the congressmen of the various districts in which are located the various plants of the Midvale Steel & Ordnance Company, and to the state and municipal authorities, to the end that they may, by all the powers and means to them available, endeavor to bring about normal conditions, with special privileges to none but justice to all and sure and swift retribution for those who may attempt to profiteer in the necessities of life.

Perhaps this utterance indicates that the vicious and often repeated consequence of reduced production at higher costs has been learned this time without the harsh, corrective schooling of hard times and unemployment. Let us hope it has, and let us hope that with it has come a permanent abiding of the ability to discriminate between right and wrong, with loyalty to the one, and rejection of the other, as a recognized duty of each individual.

WITH BEANS IN PREPARE FOR NEXT CROP

Threshing Outfits Are Moving From San Joaquin to Irrigated Section

With threshing on the San Joaquin ranch about completed, and beans in the warehouse, ranchers whose dry farming this year proved a disappointment are cheerfully proceeding to get ready for next year's crop. Already they are sub-soiling and working their ground ready to make the best possible use of the rains of the coming winter.

The bean yield on the ranch was about what was expected earlier in the summer, the yield running from one to five sacks an acre. The standard sack now contains 100 pounds of beans.

Threshing outfits are now moving into the irrigated sections southwest of Santa Ana, where the yields are in general satisfactory.

Concerning the lima bean yield in the Santa Barbara section, a Santa Barbara paper says:

"The yields shown through the threshing of beans so far this season are proving very disappointing. Hundreds of acres have shown an average yield of only about 1½ sacks per acre while many others, although doing somewhat better than this, are yielding only from one-seventh to one-fifth of last year's production upon the same land."

"Of course the very poorest has presumably been threshed first, but fields that only a short time ago seemed to give promise of producing about half a crop are in a good many cases apparently producing only about a quarter of a crop."

The Lima Bean Bulletin says: "We are obliged to reduce our estimate of the total production of regular limas to only about one-third of a crop and we trust there will prove to be this quantity although it is easy to find those who think this estimate too high."

The United States Bureau of Crop Estimates report for California crops released September 8, has this to say with reference to beans: "The bean harvest is in progress in Southern California and yields are very disappointing. A further decline in bean conditions is reported during August, and on September 1, Lima beans were but 42 per cent of normal, indicating a total production of about 625,000 100-pound sacks compared to 1,545,000 sacks in 1918.

"Beans other than Limas are falling short of estimates in Santa Maria and Lompoc Valleys. In the Salinas Valley the condition is better than further south. Two weeks of high temperatures during August in the Sacramento Valley where many fields were just in blossom did not help any, and the condition declined to 71 per cent of a normal compared to 78 per cent on August 1."

CHANDLER SIX Famous For Its Marvelous Motor

A Truly Charming Car, This New Chandler Coupe

SEARCH the whole market of motor cars, you could find no more satisfying closed car of the coupe or victoria type than the new series Chandler coupe. Closed or open, as you may desire or the weather dictate, it is clean and cozy and luxuriously comfortable in all seasons. Upholstered in finest quality silk-plush and with dull silver finish fittings designed in the best of style, there is distinctive character in this car.

The Chandler coupe seats four in perfect comfort, or three when the auxiliary chair is not in use.

Chandler closed cars, because they so clearly express the very best of the coach-maker's art and skill and because they are so fairly priced, will be over-sold throughout the Fall season.

Despite the largest production in the history of the Chandler company, the demand for the new series coupe will quickly consume the production for weeks to come. Your early order will be a safeguard against disappointment.

News from Orange County Towns

WINTERSBURG and SMELTZER

WINTERSBURG AND SMELTZER. Sept. 24.—Miss Ethel Graham and cousin, Glenn Graham, and Miss Jennie Ufford of Huntington Beach, came home from Los Angeles together Friday evening. Miss Ufford spent the weekend with her mother and the Graham young people at the J. J. Graham home and all returned together to the city Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Graham taking them in their machine. Miss Graham had spent a week arranging her course at Berkeley College and Miss Ufford at Brown's business college, which she entered at the same time. Glenn Graham entered the Y. M. C. A. school Monday where he will take a course in automobile mechanics.

An Epworth League social is planned for next Friday evening and all the young people of the neighborhood are invited. The social will be held at the home of the president, Miss Ina Clemens, and a good time is planned. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hamilton and family of Pomona were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Crane and family. In the afternoon the Cranes and their guests drove to Huntington Beach.

Mrs. Cook of Santa Ana, a late arrival from Michigan, is staying at the Charles Graham home and caring for Mrs. Graham and little son.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Fox and family drove to Balboa Sunday to visit Professor and Mrs. H. O. Ensign and took with them Donald and Marjorie Ensign, who had been at the Fox home for over a week. They found Mrs. Ensign recovering nicely from the effects of the minor operation she underwent just prior to leaving here. Donald Ensign remained at home Sunday and Marjorie returned for a longer stay with Mrs. Fox.

Mrs. John Cady received a card Monday morning from her husband telling of his safe arrival at his old home in Nebraska Tuesday evening of last week. It rained from the time he left California until his destination was reached.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Graham came down from Puento Thursday and were accompanied upon their return by the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Burgess, who are remaining for an indefinite visit with them.

TOBACCO HABIT DANGEROUS

says Doctor Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins hospital. Thousands of men suffering from fatal diseases would be in perfect health today were it not for the deadly drug of Nicotine. Stop the habit now before it's too late. It's a simple process to rid yourself of the tobacco habit in any form. Just go to any up-to-date drug store and get some Nicotol tablets; take them as directed and lo! the pernicious habit quickly vanishes. Druggists refund the money if they fail. Be sure to read large and interesting announcement by Doctor Connor soon to appear in this paper. It tells of the danger of nicotine poisoning and how to avoid it. In the meantime try Nicotol tablets; you will be surprised at the result.

WILL CALL BIDS ORNAMENTAL LIGHTING

ORANGE, Sept. 24.—No protest against the proposed building of the ornamental street lighting system having been presented, the city council has proceeded to the next step in construction of the system, the ordering of the work. This resolution was read, but action was continued until tomorrow evening for the purpose of checking up the specifications preliminary for calling for bids.

It is indicated that the remaining proceedings will be readily disposed of, and that the awarding of contracts and beginning of construction are matters of the near future. The trustees instructed the city engineer to prepare plans and specifications for paving on North and South Glassell street and North Tustin street, these being the sections of the city's paving program. Work on East Collins avenue and East Chapman will apparently be delayed, but it is expected that paving on these streets will follow the first improvements.

Showered Bride-To-Be
Miss Marguerite Rydberg entertained with a seven o'clock dinner Saturday evening in honor of Margaret Faris, who is soon to become the bride of Carl Sterrett of Santa Ana. The rooms were prettily decorated in yellow and white.

Miss Faris was showered with many pretty gifts by those present, being her chums, Miss Catherine Huff, Gladys Bush and Marguerite Rydberg.

Wedded Yesterday
A very quiet wedding occurred yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Chas. Baker, East Maple avenue, when Miss Helen G. Tufts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Tufts, became the bride of Mr. Alexander McNeill, both of Phoenix, Arizona. Mr. McNeill recently returned from overseas' service. Rev. Herbert V. Harris of the Trinity Episcopal church officiated.

SURPRISE PARTY AS STUDENT'S FAREWELL

WINTERSBURG AND SMELTZER, Sept. 24.—Mrs. John Cady carried out a successful farewell surprise Saturday evening for her son, Leonard, who leaves this week for Davis, Cal., to enter the Agricultural College. Some rapid scheming was necessary to secure the young man's presence, as he had planned a trip to Long Beach. He was as far on his way as the Alford home when his mother intercepted him there by telephone, telling him of a package left at Huntington Beach, which she must have at once. So Leonard obligingly gave up his trip and motored to the beach town on the errand. His absence gave the opportunity for the guests to secure their positions before his arrival, which was welcomed with merry shouts by the crowd of young people.

The evening passed pleasantly with games and music and a most interesting literary contest from which Miss Estelle Vandruuff came off victor and was accorded the prize, a toy pistol, which was ceremoniously presented by Prof. Walker with a formal presentation speech.

Toward the close of the delightful evening the party was served by Mrs. Cady, assisted by Mrs. W. G. Alford, with ice cream and cake. The guests included Prof. Ray Walker, teacher of manual training of the Huntington Beach high school, and his wife; Miss Owens, oral training teacher of the school; Teddy Tarbox and Miss Helen Newland, also of Huntington Beach; John Murdy, George Gothard, Harold Preston, Russell Alford, Loren Mad dux, Viola Walton, Francis Blaylock, Paul Vandruuff, Estelle Vandruuff, Mrs. Vandruuff of Wintersburg, Thelma Price, Mildred Forney and John Shutt of Bolsa.

where they were royally welcomed and treated to a feast of watermelon. After looking over the ranch they came on to Villa Park. Mrs. Elma Lee and Grace Ellen came home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith and children of Perris were at Newport Sunday and were met there by a crowd of their old friends and they enjoyed a splendid basket lunch together. Those from Villa Park were Mrs. L. R. Ford and family, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ford and son and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gully and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Baker Thomson and Miss Frances Burier.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Nichols and son Laurence, and Mrs. Hattie Nichols spent Sunday in Pomona with Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hardon.

The Villa Park store expects to open its doors today.

Just arrived—our glaze fruit, fresh from the factory. Dragon.

Own Your Own Home

The United States Housing Corporation makes this statement:

"THE NATION NEEDS 1,000,000 MORE HOMES."

In each group of 2,000 persons in the United States one person is living in Orange County; therefore

ORANGE COUNTY NEEDS 500 MORE HOMES.

NILSON TRACTORS

A Small Tractor For Big Work

Build in two models, Senior, and Junior—having 4000 and 3000 lbs. draw-bar pull. We estimate the Nilson to be the best Wheel Tractor on the market for open Farm work, and we invite comparison. A bear to pull, light in weight, ample traction, no packing of the soil, easy to operate, but best of all low cost of maintenance.

There are many of these tractors in operation throughout Southern California and the work that they are doing is a credit to this meritoric machine. We urge you to drop us a line for a Catalogue, also visit some of the owners of this machine, and see for yourself the work that the Nilson is doing—be your own judge.
